Six States in Supreme Court
Opposing Law Made in 1965

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government clashed today with a big segment of the South as debate over the constitutionality of the 1965 Voting Rights Act opened before the Supreme Court.

Senate Okays Weaver for Cabinet Post

New Secretary
Heads Department
Of Urban Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed today President Johnson's nomination of Robert C. Weaver, New York Negro, to join the Cabinet as secretary of Housing and Urban Development.

Confirmation came by voice vote soon after the Banking Committee had voted 14-0 to approve the nomination. Weaver will be the first Negro ever to serve in the Cabinet.

The Senate waived its rules to act so quickly. Ordinarily nominations are supposed to go over one day after being reported from a committee.

Confirmed at the same time was the nomination of Prof. Robert C. Wood of Massachusetts Institute of Technology to be undersecretary of the new department.

Friendly Reception
Weaver got a friendlier reception before the committee today than when he first appeared before the group five years ago as the nominee to be federal housing administrator.

Democratic and Republican members vied in praise of Weaver and his record as head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency which forms the nucleus of the new department.

Weaver said, "I am pleased and flattered by the committee's action."

Short Hearing
The 1961 hearings ran two days and four members of the committee voted against Weaver with 11 in favor. Today's hearing lasted less than an hour.

The committee also confirmed unanimously the nomination of Prof. Robert C. Wood of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to be undersecretary in the department.

Committee chairman A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., said the nominations would be reported promptly to the Senate for a confirmation vote.

The bill passed by Congress last year setting up the new Cabinet department allotted to it the functions and personnel of the Housing and Home Finance Agency but nothing else.

Several members of Congress said programs in other departments dealing with air pollution, urban highways and education in slum areas should be transferred to the new department.

Milwaukee Youth Held for Assault

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A 17-year-old Milwaukee youth was being held by police Sunday for questioning in the rape-beating of a 5-year-old girl early Saturday.

Detective Inspector Leo J. Woelfel said the youth matched the description provided by the victim's 27-year-old mother, but added that she has not made positive identification. Woelfel said the teen-ager denied the assault.

Police said the youth, who lives a block from the child's home, was taken into custody at home several hours after the attack.

Knowles Picks William Kahl As School Head

Deputy Advanced
To Take Place of Angus Rothwell

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — William C. Kahl, 57-year-old deputy superintendent of public instruction and key man in the state school administration for the last 15 years, today was named superintendent by Governor Warren P. Knowles.

The selection was forecast several weeks ago in a Post-Crescent Madison dispatch when it became known that State Supt. Angus Rothwell would become director of the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

Rothwell's new job will become effective July 1, and today Knowles made the Kahl choice effective at the same time.

Unanimity of Backing
Kahl was urged for the appointment by Rothwell, and Knowles said today that he was North Carolina, also affected by the Voting Rights Act, is not taking part.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, who celebrates his 44th birthday today, was to defend the legality of the five-month-old law in his first Supreme Court argument since he became the government's top legal officer last year.

Transit Strike Cost $1 Billion

NEW YORK (AP) — The Commerce and Industry Association estimates that the 12-day subway and bus strike cost New Yorkers a billion dollars and that "less than 25 per cent will be recovered."

The major business group urged that the 15-cent transit fare be increased to help pay for the contract settlement that ended the transit tieup last Thursday.

The cost of new two-year contracts between the city Transit Authority and the striking Transport Workers Union and Amalgamated Transit Union, both AFL-CIO, has been estimated variously between $52 million and $70 million.

Suspends Civilian Rule

Army Commander Controls Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — Nigeria's Army commander emerged as the dominant figure in Africa's most populous nation today following an unsuccessful coup attempt by mutinous elements in the armed forces.

Maj. Gen. Aguiyi Ironsi declared himself temporary head of the federal government and chief of all armed forces Sunday night and suspended key provisions of the Nigerian constitution.

He also suspended the nation's top civilian officials, including Prime Minister Sir Abubakar Tafawa Balewa, President Azikiwe Nnamdi, the heads of Nigeria's four regions and the federal and regional parliaments.

Held Hostages
Balewa was kidnapped during the coup attempt with his finance minister, Chief Festus Okoth Ebo. The rebels are believed holding them hostage. Ironsi's troops were reported searching for them.

Troops loyal to Ironsi guarded government buildings and other key points in Lagos and manned five roadblocks between the airport and the capital.

Remnants of the rebel force appeared to be on the run. One report said Kaduna, the chief northern city, was the only main center in rebel hands.

Ironsi said military governors would take over in the four regions and would be responsible to his military regime for keeping order.

Four Regions
The federation of Nigeria is composed of the four regions plus the federal territory of Lagos. The federal government handles such matters as foreign affairs, trade, communications, railways and defense.

Ironsi called on civil servants and police to continue in their posts.

Viet Nam Cease-Fire Ordered for Holiday

Green Bay Supermarket Destroyed by Raging Fire

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The cause of the raging pre-dawn blaze that burned out an east side supermarket early Sunday was being investigated today by fire department inspectors here.

Chief David Zuidmolder said his department would probe the ruins of the Sureway Super Market, 1285 Main St., in an attempt to determine the origin of the fire that resulted in an estimated $185,000 loss.

Zuidmolder said the fire may have started from faulty wiring, but the possibility of arson was not being ruled out.

Green Bay firemen battled the roaring fire for more than four hours in 10 - below zero weather.

Seven fire department rigs from three fire stations arrived on the scene about 3:30 a.m. minutes after a police officer spotted heavy smoke coming from the building while making his rounds in a squad car.

Window Blown Out
Just as the firemen began hooking up their lines, the plate glass window on the front wall of the 50 by 190-foot brick building was blown out and flames shot from inside the structure.

Fire-fighters poured thousands of gallons of water into the building. Firemen were stationed on Main street, windows on both the east and west side of the building on an adjoining building and worked from the 100-foot aerial ladder.

About a half-hour after firemen began hosing the blaze, prefabricated wood beams on the ceiling collapsed and the roof caved in, making it impossible to get at the flames on the floor of the building. The fire is water seeped into the floors of the building, believed to have started in the each establishment.

Loss Breakdown
Store officials said the loss to the building was $60,000 and stock and fixture damages were approximately $125,000.

Three pumps, the aerial ladder, the rescue squad and chief's car were on the scene and about 10 three-inch hoses were used.

Firemen used pike poles through the openings created by the collapsed front windows and pulled pieces of roofing away so that hoses could get at the flames.

An air hammer was used to drill a gaping hole in the front of the building so that the water that began rising gushed out onto the street.

Sewers on St. George Street, running north of Main Street, were flooded with debris and froze, causing the streets to become flooded.

Clear Sewers
Street department workers used picks and shovels to clear the sewers. The below zero weather made footing treacherous for firefighters as the water that seeped out onto the street quickly froze.

Ice and icicles formed on the outside of the building and on the sidewalks and adjoining parking lots despite the intense heat of the flames.

A rear portion of the building which served as a warehouse for the other six Sureway stores in the city also was destroyed. The storage area contained soaps.

Seeking Communist Desertions

U. S., Vietnamese Launch Huge Propaganda Drive in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam factor exists in the Communist (AP) — The United States and camp the Vietnamese government have launched the most massive propaganda offensive of the Viet Nam war, hoping to trigger large-scale Communist desertions.

Geared to the lunar new year that begins Thursday, the campaign includes distributing 140 million leaflets, many in air-drops in Communist territory.

The main planning and direction has come from the United States, which will pay the $250,000 cost of printing and distribution.

The effort reaches to Washington where Voice of America broadcasts will beam heavy doses of propaganda to North and South Viet Nam. It reaches down to privates who are briefed on how to handle those who surrender.

The program, which began late last year, will be a test of the expensive psychological warfare apparatus built up by both the Vietnamese and American sides.

U. S. Official Kidnaped By Viet Cong

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong kidnaped an American civilian official today outside the village of Trung Lap, about 25 miles north of Saigon, and marched him into the jungle, his hands in the air.

The missing man is Douglas Ramsey, 28, Boulder City, Nev. He is the assistant province representative of the U.S. mission for the area.

His driver, a South Vietnamese, came back and told American authorities they were traveling northeast from Cu Chi when they came under Viet Cong gunfire.

The driver said he stopped. He added that Ramsey got out and raised his hands in a surrender gesture. Several Viet Cong guerrillas marched him away. The driver was wounded slightly in the first ambush fire but was able to navigate on foot.

Trung Lap is in the middle of the sector where U.S. forces conducted their biggest search and destroy operation of the Vietnamese war — Operation Crimp—which has just been terminated.

Madison Family Of Three Killed

LAGRANGE, Ind. (AP) — A Madison, Wis., family of three was wiped out Saturday as their auto veered off the Indiana Toll Road after the right front tire went flat and smashed into a bridge abutment.

Killed were Airman 2C Edward Myres, 20; his wife, Linda, 18, and their 18-month-old son, Edward.

Truce for Tet Starts On Thursday

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, today ordered all American troops to cease firing for 78 hours starting at noon Thursday in observance of the Vietnamese lunar New Year holiday, Tet.

Westmoreland's order seconded the decision of the South Vietnamese government to halt fighting during the national celebration. Similar instructions went to South Korean, Australian and New Zealand troops fighting alongside the Vietnamese and Americans.

The truce more than doubles the 30-hour cease-fire observed by Allied forces during the Christmas holiday. But it falls 18 hours short of the Tet truce proclaimed by the Viet Cong. They have promised not to attack from 11 p.m. Wednesday to 11 p.m. Sunday, a total of four days.

Red Proposal
Westmoreland ordered a cease-fire from noon Thursday to 6 p.m. Sunday. It was assumed the Allies agreed on different hours to avoid giving the impression they were simply reacting to the Communist proposal.

Westmoreland's order said: "All U.S. forces in the republic will not fire at or on the enemy except in self defense."

There was no sign in the Saigon sector of any letup in fighting before the holiday, although elsewhere in the country military activities continued at a slow pace.

In a lightning stroke, a Viet Cong company attacked a government infantry and armor school at Thu Duc 10 miles north of Saigon at 1 a.m. While one part of the guerrilla force fired two mortar shells as a diversion, another hit part of the compound with automatic weapons.

Officer School
The guerrillas pierced the barbed wire of the officers' candidate school and raked the billets, killing five wives and three children of Vietnamese officer candidates in their beds. Three other children were wounded.

Armored troops fought back and killed 10 of the Viet Cong, a government spokesman said. These bodies were left behind, but the fleeing Viet Cong were seen to be carrying other dead or wounded.

One Viet Cong was captured. Twenty-six civilians were killed and four were wounded when a busload of civilians hit a Viet Cong mine on the road from Moc Hoa to Cai Lay, near Kien Tuong, 35 miles south of the capital.

Northwest of Saigon, a Viet Cong attack on a U.S. troop convoy backfired. Supported by planes roaring in over the treetops, the Americans turned the bitter fight 20 miles northwest of Saigon into a drubbing for the guerrillas.

Iron Triangle
The Communists heated up the ebbing 11-day U.S. sweep on the edge of their Iron Triangle by spraying the convoy with

Diller Guests On Williams' Show Tonight

BY TV SCOUT

8-9 Channels 4-5 — The Andy Williams Show is almost completely dominated by Phyllis Diller, although guests Johnny Mathis and the Osmond Brothers have an opportunity to shine, too, in this fast-paced session. Miss Diller, a string-haired mad hatter, has a seven minute spot in which she wallows in sumptuous bubble bath singing "I Feel Pretty" and "They Go Wild, Simply Wild Over Me." The boys' tunes are a bit drier and more tuneful the Osmonds sing and dance to "Let's Hang On," a rock 'n' roll ditty. Mathis joins Andy in a jivey duet of "Take Five" and Andy swings high with the Broadway tunes like "On a Clear Day You Can See Forever" (Color).

6-30-7 — Channels 4-5 — Hulabaloo is more foot-stomping than usual, with even choreographer-turned-crooner David Winters in on the fun. Besides dancing, he also sings. Host for the gathering is Trini Lopez, and guests include Judi Lynn and the Everly Brothers (Color).

7-30-8 Channels 2-7-12 — The Lucy Show, with an episode that was scheduled earlier, is highly reminiscent of that funny scene in "Auntie Mame" in which Rosalind Russell working as a salesgirl, made havoc out of a department store (Color).

8-8:30 Channels 11-6-9 — "Rope's End" on A Man Called Shenandoah is a strange piece of fiction. The villain is a judge (Russell Thorson) whose harsh rulings have earned him the title of "Hansman Harvey." Plot swirls around a stagecoach holdup in which the judge's daughter (Susan Oliver) is kidnapped by Michael Ansara and L. Q. Jones.

8-8:30 Channels 2-7-12 — If you're a fan of Don Knotts in his role of Barney Fife on The Andy Griffith Show this is your last opportunity to see him. For his second visit to the series, he discovers he is a "living legend" from Andy's new deputy Warren (Jack Burns). There are many humorous moments as he joins the Maverry lawmen in a final "manhunt." (Color)

8-10 — Channels 4-5-7 — Run For Your Life repeats the pilot of the series, "Rapture at Two-Forty," which was first shown last spring on the old Kraft Suspense Theatre. It isn't one of the better episodes, although it does explain in some detail why hero Ben Gazzara, who has a short time to live, has dedicated his life to seeking thrills (Repeat-Color)

9-10 Channels 11-6-9 — Dane Clark makes an infrequent television appearance to star as a rabble rouser on Ben Casey. You are led to believe that his constant spouting of hot air has caused him to have a pressure on the brain (intra-cranial).

9-10 Channels 2-12 — Hollywood Talent Scouts really goes to the dogs this time. Among the celebrity scouts is Lassie, who scratches out a welcome for a new canine talent, a trained hound (Color)

Man Who Dropped Boy From Bridge Is Sane

WAUKESHA (AP) — A Milwaukee man, charged with attempted murder in connection with the dropping of a West Allis boy from a bridge, is sane, according to a court psychiatrist report.

John A. Waltermire, 22, underwent the mental examination on the order of Waukesha County Judge William G. Callow after Waltermire's attorney said he doubted his client's ability to stand trial.

Waltermire is also charged with kidnapping James Ottow, 12. The boy was seriously injured when dropped 34 feet from a highway bridge near Waukesha.

New Dental Discovery Ends Need for Pastes and Powders

New York, N. Y. (Special) — After years of research, scientists have discovered an entirely new substance to make false teeth fit perfectly. Denture wearers report such success with this new substance in refitting loose dentures that they no longer need paste and powder adhesives.

This new dental discovery is a soft pliable plastic that is applied directly to dentures from the tube. User then inserts dentures into mouth and bites down. Instantly the new substance molds to the exact contours of mouth and gums holding dentures firmly in place. No more soothing salivary so power that even the wildest denture wearers can talk and eat anything with complete confidence. No more sore spots and chafing chapped lips. Sores are quickly relieved. One application lasts weeks. No "gels" and no "glues" to wash away, yet it is easily removed when desired. This substance now makes it possible to refit and reline worn dentures at home, saving over $100 on costly relining work.

This new substance is now available at drugstores under the name CUSHION GRIP, with a full money-back guarantee. Get CUSHION GRIP today and end the need for paste and powder adhesives forever!

Mythical Pussycat Big Troublemaker

Author May Lose Teaching Credentials Over Controversial 'A Cat Called Jesus'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — vandals have attacked their residence, they reported. The cat in Mrs. Davis play is rather insignificant — except in plenty of trouble for a young title — she said.

About Compassion

The play, set in a small, mythical North Carolina jail house, is about a rather unattractive girl, daughter of the sheriff, and an imprisoned Neanderthal who is to be executed for the murder of a rich, amoral Caucasian woman who had been his patron and lover. In the play, the sheriff's daughter's attitude changes from mocking to compassion, and Mrs. Davis said, that's what it is all about — compassion.

The prisoner, Cleo, is to be executed for the murder of a rich, amoral Caucasian woman who had been his patron and lover. In the play, the sheriff's daughter's attitude changes from mocking to compassion, and Mrs. Davis said, that's what it is all about — compassion.

"I didn't name the cat Jesus," Mrs. Davis said. "Eula Mae did." Eula Mae, she said, is an unsympathetic character in the play, owner of the cat.

Her play won first prize in the tournament — and raised a storm of protest.

Tuesday Mrs. Davis is scheduled to confront the State Education Department's credentials committee on allegations of professional misconduct.

Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, said that the committee decided to investigate Mrs. Davis last spring, and that he agreed with the decision.

Rafferty said he had found passages of the play of sufficient profanity, obscenity and blasphemy "to warrant an investigation."

Mrs. Davis and her husband, Bruce, a history teacher, have more to worry about. Since the controversy began they have received abusive telephone calls and intemperate letters, and

Wise Shopper Asks Questions Before Purchasing Appliance

BY ANNA FISHER RUSH

Every three seconds a major appliance outlives its normal useful life and is ready for replacement. Every two seconds a new major appliance is delivered to someone's home.

In the year 1964, 18,128,000 major appliances were shipped from our factories.

Most appliances date back less than 25 years and the great majority are innovations of the past decade. Electric slicing knives, for example, introduced just two years ago in January, 1963, are being made by 31 manufacturers. People laughed when they came on the scene, yet predictions are that 2 million were sold in 1965, and by 1970, 5 million.

We're told that three-fourths of the major appliances which will be available in 1975 are not now on the market.

Ask Yourself

The consumer has a genuine responsibility in this business of buying. Before going to the

In an attempt to determine whether or not the American woman is a discriminating customer, or one moved by impulse or whim, a consumer conference was held recently in New York under the sponsorship of the Advertising Women of New York Foundation in cooperation with the New York State Department of Commerce Woman's Program. Seven hundred housewives, working women and opinion leaders attended.

Ways in which women can improve their shopping habits in the fields of home furnishings, household equipment and general buying and the report of a teen panel on their own buying preferences will be discussed in a five-part series, beginning today.

store, you should ask yourself:

How much space do I have? (A tape measure, incidentally, is a very important thing and should go right along with you to the appliance store.)

What are the needs of the family now and in the future? How much money can I spend, or want to finance? Can the new appliance be used safely and efficiently with my present home wiring system or will improvements be necessary? Can I make a high down payment and thus save on finance charges?

Unfortunately, appliance salesmen are not the most stable in terms of length of service. Plus they are expected to know all about several lines of appliances, each line which may have as many as 15 refrigerator models alone.

Ask Salesman

You should be asking, and getting, definite answers to such questions as:

How much does it cost to install and operate the appliance?

What does the price include? Installation? Who does it? Delivery? Warranty and service? Who provides the service and what is its reputation? What does the warranty cover and for how long?

Will he pick up and take away the old appliance? If so, what does it cost? If not, will you have to arrange this yourself and how much will it cost? Or is there room to keep the still operative refrigerator and use it for Papa's beer? Or can he arrange a trade-in?

Who will show you how to use this appliance?

Is there a really good instruction book provided?

Have Terms Explained

Are specialized terms bantered about merely to impress you? Find out, yes demand, whether the Underwriters' Laboratories label, a safety protection, covers only the cord or the appliance itself. What does a NEMA (National Electrical Manufacturers Association) table setting mean when measuring the capacity of dishwashers? In buying air conditioners, what do BTU's mean in terms of needs? What about capacity of washers — specifically what does a 10, 12 or 15 pound load mean? Wise shoppers should know what these terms mean, or don't mean, and get answers or explanations.

Is the device sturdy constructed? Look it over carefully. Are parts easily removable for cleaning? Are the edges and corners smooth and rounded? Do doors open smoothly? Are the controls easy to read, easy to operate, easy to grasp, easy to clean? How does the controls work?

How does the appliance appeal to you, esthetically? Good design? What colors are available? Are appliances of color in stock or is there a wait period? Shall you be a plain Jane or go first class all the way? Will the deluxe model, or the standard, better suit your needs and budget? What features have genuine utility for you and what ones are just gadgets, or have debatable value? Demand an explanation of how the accessories or features work, and translate their convenience value into terms of your way of life.

Use that tape measure. Will your final selection fit the space left over? What adjustments might have to be made to accommodate the new appliance? Or, will a compromise be necessary in your final selection?

After Delivery

Now the appliance is delivered and installed. It's time to ask yourself these questions:

Have I read the instruction book thoroughly before using the appliance? Have I filed it in a place where I can find it for quick reference if needed?

Have I filled in, and mailed the warranty card? Have I recorded the model and serial number in a place that I can easily find it? It's the first question you'll be asked if service is necessary.

Have I told the manufacturer whether I like the appliance? Manufacturers build appliances they think will sell. They will keep on building them that way unless they hear from consumers. They want to hear from you and it's your responsibility to heap praise as well as complaints.

Salesmen Deliver the Pitch about numerous models of appliances, but they should know the complete story behind each model to answer questions customers ask when buying major appliances. (AP Newsfeatures Photo)

Two Good Hands

Dish Drying Delightful

For many little girls drying dishes is a chore to get out of. For five-year-old Linda White, playmates and her brothers and cotton any kitchen task is a sister are straightforward in delight if it requires the use of both hands. She had only one until last year.

The little blonde beauty of Baltimore, Md., was born a congenital amputee. She had no right hand only useless knuckle-like bumps at the wrist. She does have a good left hand and, as a toddler, learned to use it with double-duty dexterity.

But because both hands are needed for so many things like dressing dolls or drying dishes, the simplest activity often became a frustrating trial for Linda.

Shows Determination

"She'd work so hard to make one hand do the work of two, it was sometimes heartbreaking to watch," says her mother, Joan Whitecotton.

Because Robert Whitecotton, her father was in military service when Linda was an infant, the family moved about the country. Whenever they sought help for Linda, they found themselves involved in a continuous debate about the advisability of providing her with an artificial hand.

"We couldn't get any agreement as to whether she should be fitted with a prosthetic device early or when she was older; or whether she should have a hook, which would be efficient, or a cosmetic hand which would look natural but might not work as well," Whitecotton recalls.

Checks March of Dimes

It was not until the family settled in Baltimore in 1964 that the parents learned of the March of Dimes program to help children with birth defects. A friend advised the father to contact the Baltimore County Chapter of the voluntary health organization, which arranged for Linda to be seen immediately at the Birth Defects Center at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Within a short time, Linda was wearing a remarkably workable hand, gloved with life-like, flesh-toned plastic.

By moving her shoulder muscles under straps which activate the hand, the determined little girl can make her "new" fingers pick up, hold and release objects of almost any size. Naturally right-handed, she has learned to use the artificial device efficiently in feeding herself, coloring, and even for holding slippery wet dishes as she happily applies the towel.

Teaches Herself

"She figured out for herself how to expand the space between thumb and forefinger to grasp larger objects. I was sure she had broken a hinge," her father says, "but she knew what she was doing all along."

Proud of each new accomplishment, Linda is not at all reluctant to demonstrate her special hand to kindergarten classmates at Baltimore's Greenfield School.

You often hear that children are cruel, but we've found that adults are more thoughtless in their reactions to Linda's handicap," her mother says. "Her cap," her mother says. "Her playmates and her brothers and sister are straightforward in their curiosity and Linda reacts just as matter-of-factly."

South took the ace and king of diamonds and ruffed his low diamond in the dummy. If this ruff held, he could afford to give up a trump trick.

East over-ruffed and returned a club. The finesse lost, and South had to lose a heart and a trump in addition to the over-ruff and the club trick. Down one.

Your Problems

Chance of Marrying Lost Half-Brother Slight, Ann Says

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You have had many strange letters in your column but I'll bet mine will be the strangest.

In 1941 I was 17. We lived in a city near an Army camp and I became involved with a soldier. I had a child out of wedlock. I gave up the child for adoption when he was 10 days old. The father was transferred before I knew I was pregnant and I lost track of him.

Two years later I married a fine man who knew about my past and has never once mentioned it. Our first child was born the following year — a beautiful little girl.

Jennifer (not her real name) is 21 and a junior in college. She wrote that she is in love and would like to bring the chap home for us to meet. Ann, we met him last weekend and I am in a state of shock. This young man is the image of the father of my out-of-wedlock child.

Should I ask Jennifer to find out if the boy was adopted? If he was should I tell her he may be her half-brother? Could they have normal children if they married? Please help me — I am going to pieces. — RX

Dear RX: I checked with several authorities and they all agree that the chances are millions to one against the boy being your son. One consultant suggested that your sense of guilt might be magnifying the resemblance in your mind's eye.

If the boy is Jennifer's half-brother — most unlikely in the light of those fantastic odds — they have a good chance of having normal children provided neither has an inheritable disease such as diabetes or hemophilia. Say nothing to Jennifer. It would serve no useful purpose.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a teen-ager who just had her eyes opened up. My friend asked me to go with her when she took her written test for a driver's license. I'll be taking my test next year and I wanted a preview.

My friend flunked the test and was very mad at the officer who did the grading. She accused the motor vehicle department of throwing in trick questions so people wouldn't pass. The officer said, "Better to flunk the test on paper than on the highway. We don't give away licenses here. Our job is to protect your life and the lives of others against drivers who don't know the rules."

The officer then went on to explain that thousands of people are killed every year because they didn't know what a sign meant — or the other fellow didn't know.

I realize for the first time the importance of studying and understanding the driver's manual. When I take my test I'll know it backward and forward. Thanks for your time. — Wiser Now

Dear Wiser: Thanks for your time. Your letter may change the lives of some of our readers — or even save a few.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will

you please say something about women with high and puffy hair-do's that obstruct the view in the theater, the movies, at lectures, concerts and in church? I'm sick of rubbernecking to see over a mountain however, I in the hope that some of the Pompadour Paulas and Bouffant Belays will see it and take the hint.

If excessive drinking is wrecking your health or destroying someone you love, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Filtered Clean

Do you keep your home clean? Better not bet on it, unless you own a device called an electronic air cleaner. Regular air filters used in force-air heating-cooling systems and in air conditioning units are only about five to eight per cent efficient, according to home comfort engineers. But electronic air cleaners — which cost about as much as a good refrigerator — are claimed to remove as much as 95 per cent of the airborne particles passing through them. This includes dust, dirt, lint, tobacco smoke, pollens, bacteria and many others.

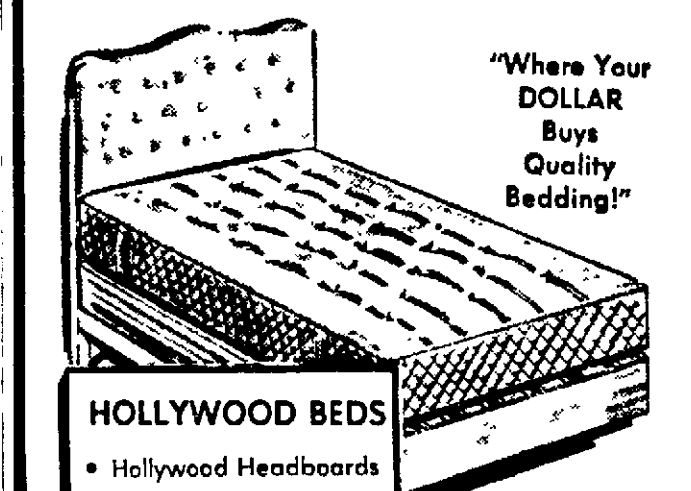

I will print your letter, others.

Miss Fuller Engaged to Wed Henry Kaiser

LA CROSSE (AP)—A Lawrence University coed will marry a member of the industrial empire-building Kaiser family, with two separate threads, used side by side instead of crisscrossed.

The engagement of Miss Margaret Jane (Peggy) Fuller of La Crosse to Henry Mead Kaiser was announced by her parents Saturday.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of the president of Kaiser Industries Corp. and the grandson of industrialist Henry J. Kaiser, board chairman of the family firm.

Simple Lines, Bold Colors in Boutique Shows

FLORENCE, Italy (AP)—Boutique and knitwear designers took the stage in the Pitti Palace Friday as showings of Italian fashions for spring and summer opened with a promise of simple lines, clashing colors and uncovered knees.

Competing Roman and Florentine couturiers made peace after years of conflicting showings in the two cities. They agreed on four days of boutiques showing in Florence, followed by five days of high fashion presentations Jan. 18-22 in Rome.

Ride Above Knee

For 1966 some houses put some precisely, insecting the knee, but many decided to go up a bit and reveal the entire knee.

The new line is one of geometrical simplicity. Some designers concentrated on V-cuts to go with it. Others put their attention on low necklines.

The big word on colors is that they should clash whether in bold and bright hues or in pale pastels. White is also important.

BY JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — When Mala Rubinstein's doughty aunt died at age 94 last April leaving the vast cosmetic empire in her hands, someone said, "so you're going to be Helena Rubinstein the second!"

"I'm going to be Mala Rubinstein the first," she snapped.

Mala's reply is indicative of her determination to have her own personality — this woman who for more than 30 years has trained for the day last spring when she was to step out of the shadows of the legendary Helena Rubinstein and into her own.

Has Same Bearing

Mala the niece has the same erect carriage. She pulls her dark silky hair into a knot at the nape of her neck as her dynamic aunt did. She has expressive Rubinstein hands, she now has a marvelous milk white complexion — the kind that aided the shrewd Helena parlay a few jars of face cream into a multi-million dollar beauty aid empire.

But she is emphatically no carbon copy. Her indomitable aunt who thwarted jewel thieves in her apartment at age 93, always appreciated her spunky independence, friends say.

Actually, teen-age complexion problems which she cleared up after advice in letters from her aunt, inspired Mala to leave Cracow, Poland, and join the then already renowned businesswoman in Paris 30 years ago. There she worked long hours in the laboratories, in the sales division — anywhere she could learn.

"My aunt believed in hard work," she says. Eventually, she came to America, and became before Helena Rubinstein died, not only her right hand, but her left hand, too.

Married Industrial Designer

Somehow there was time in the beginning to meet handsome, courtly Victor Silson, an industrial designer and to be won by him. Today he is in charge of creative packaging for the many cosmetic preparations which she, as head of the company, oversees today.

Once the day's tasks are done, they return to their tastefully opulent mid-town apartment where art treasures from their travels occupy every nook and cranny and nearly every patch of wall.

There is a typically cultivated city life, they give intimate parties at home limited to a dozen guests, and regularly attend the theater, musical performances, and the art museums. On week ends, as long as the weather is nice, they hurry to their seaside home in West Hampton L.I., where both love swimming in the chilly waters.

Fascinated by Youth

Although they are childless, the Silson household is a standard listening post for the troubles of nieces and nephews on both sides of the family.

Youth fascinated Helena Rubinstein, who miraculously preserved its quality within herself until her death. Youth also fascinates Mala Rubinstein.

For many years she has been interested in a variety of programs directed at teaching young women proper make-up manners. Now she is fascinated with the idea of teaching middle-aged women the tricks the young people may already know, cosmetic techniques that would erase years from their appearance.

Pleased With Outlook

She is especially enchanted over the cosmetic outlook for the new generation. As head of one of the world's largest firms with great research laboratories, Mala Rubinstein knows of some of the beauty aids which will be theirs to use in four or five years. It takes that much time, she says, for a new product to be researched thoroughly and market tested before reaching the buying public.

Youth-preserving vitamins and hormones are being pumped into face creams at a rapid rate. Is there a chance that women may permanently overcome their wrinkles?

Mala Rubinstein is sure of it, although she does not believe that all wrinkles deserve to be conquered. Some are a woman's friend, she insists. They add character to what might otherwise be uninteresting countenances.

Beauty By Pill?

Will there be a possibility in the distant future that our beauty aids will be administered internally, by popping pills in our mouths?

"Well, vitamins and diet pills are beauty aids that we take in that manner already," she counters.

But it is within the realm of the imagination to predict that other kinds of pills may someday affect the color of hair, complexions, possibly even the eyes.

Isn't there an old adage somewhere that real beauty always comes from within?

This Party Sofa provides seating room not only in the usual place, but all around the back and arms as well. They are covered with latex foam rubber, so that even without springs, they provide a comfortable perch.

The basically plain design achieves the opulent look with its deep cushions and linen-like fabric of brilliant green with touches of lemon and orange. Separate cubes are used for cocktail tables.

Deep Cushions Stay Plump

The scale is grandiose, the cushion seats and backs for of firm latex foam covered with silhouette rounded, the mood sofas, outsize chairs, chaises layers of softer latex top end and occasional down-to-the-floor bottom. It never needs fluffing upholstery is strictly one of and will wear for years.

Overall, the range of furniture designs for 1966 is elegant, from ease. It is evident in massive, Another new cushion, seven, 17th Century England to the ottomans, pull-up upholstered inches thick, is made by mold-benches and stools tucked under ing latex foam in a crowned country casual to Mediterranean a table or console when not in shape, tapering toward the use, extra cushions stacked for edges.

Deep comfort calls for thick, soft cushioning. Today's comfort is built into cushions with latex foam. It spreads out and up in cushions almost a foot thick.

This year's showing of loose

Quilted floral prints further enhance this plump look. The softness of corduroy and velvet also add to the inviting and comfortable look that spells 'sandwich' composed of a core good living today.

Mala Rubenstein, Niece of the late Helena Rubenstein, is carrying on the cosmetic firm in the tradition of its founder, yet with her own approach. Her balenciaga suit in burgundy is accented with a pink scarf and amethyst jewelry. (AP Newsfeatures Photo)

The Ailing House Cement Will Help Seal Pipe Leak

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q. Recently I noticed that a leak has developed just where the big drain pipe enters through the basement wall. I don't see any cracks, just a ring-shaped lead around the pipe. Perhaps the mortar has shrunk. At any rate, how can I repair this?

A. Seal the whole area around the pipe from four to six inches with asphalt roofing cement. Run it out along the pipe too for a few inches. Do this on the outside as well because water may be working in along the pipe.

Q. I'm planning to finish off a room in my unfinished attic space. The walls will be panels of sheetrock. My question: Is it possible to hide the seams between panels?

A. This is done all the time. You cover the seams with a special perforated tape. Spackle is then smoothed over the joint, being spread wide enough to fill not only the seams, but all the slightly sunk nailheads as well. With a little practice, you'll make this as smooth as a plaster wall.

Q. We are planning to build a room. Will it be wise to plan on a slightly larger septic tank, so that it can also take care of a food disposal unit?

A. Very good idea. Otherwise, a too-small tank will probably need more frequent cleanings.

A Lovelier You By Mary Sue Miller

If you dream of having a trimmer figure, there's a message here for you. A program for figure improvement — begun with this column. The series will appear once weekly, for 10 weeks.

The first target is that eternal problem, the hips. The only sure way to trim off the excess is with spot-reducing exercise. There are two types of routines: Vigorous workouts that act like massage on the flesh and almost effortless routines that strengthen the hold of the muscles on the flesh.

In this series we'll combine the two. That way, you achieve ideal results with half the huff-and-puff. Here's all you do hip-wise:

1. Lie back down on floor; bring knees up and clasp with hands; roll from far side to far side, across upper hip. Now come to erect sitting position with knees bent and soles of feet on floor; by swinging legs from side to side, roll on lower ones. send for my leaflet, Hip hip. Two minutes in all.

2. Sit on hard chair and sue Miller in care of The Post-square weight evenly on buttocks; forcefully contract hipself — addressed envelope and 5 muscles — hold for five counts; cents in coin to cover handling, and repeat twice.

Reducing Extra: If you are overweight, combine diet and exercise. Then both your tape measure and scale will go into a

Correction

In the Friday Post-Crescent story about the March 6 Miss Appleton Pageant it was stated that Miss Luane Briske was the first Miss Appleton to reach the Wisconsin pageant semi-finals. However, the first Miss Appleton, the former Miss Judy Van Alstine, of Neenah, was one of five state finalists. Now, Mrs. Francis Spellman Jr., Oshkosh, the 1960 Miss Appleton was first runner up in the Wisconsin pageant.

Seventh Firm Files For CATV Franchise In Appleton Area

A seventh firm—Midland Community Antenna Systems, Inc. of Milwaukee—today filed for a CATV franchise in Appleton.

A meeting on the CATV applications was scheduled at the city hall this afternoon.

Two council committees—street-sanitation and public safety—called the joint session for informational purposes to see what the CATV operators have to offer in the way of service.

Russell Mortenson, 725 E. Michigan St., wrote the council on behalf of Midland, the second Milwaukee firm to request a franchise here.

Microwave System
Midland indicated it would operate a microwave system which would provide subscribers to its service with 12 TV station channels, along with 15 FM radio stations, plus educational TV and other special programming.

The firm has requested a 25-year franchise and intends to charge an $18.75 installation charge to the subscriber who would then pay $5 a month for the CATV programming service.

No other community in this part of the state has been the target of the CATV operators as about development in local political circles was the entry of Mrs. Dorothy Stillings in the race for city clerk.

Candidates Filing
The two candidates filing papers today were:

—Paul W. Tusler, 32, 1119 W. Wisconsin Ave., city sealer for two years and a salesman at Tusler Pontiac. He is seeking the 20th Ward post held by Ald. Norman Beyer.

—Kenneth G. Berkvam, 54, of 621 W. Marquette St., an employee of a clean towel service, who is running for alderman in the 18th Ward. Three others are circulating papers for the same position.

Takes Out Papers
Taking out papers was Harold D. Mares, 38, 625 W. Prospect Ave., who heads Mares Electronics, and is seeking the 8th Ward aldermanic position now held by Ald. R. P. Groh, council president.

Mares tangled with the city a year ago on a condemnation required for the widening of the Prospect Avenue - Memorial Drive intersection and recently filed a claim against the City of Appleton.

First Time
For the first time in three decades, Appleton will have a primary March 8. The general election is set for April 5.

City offices to be filled include those of the mayor, city clerk, treasurer, assessor, attorney, 10 aldermen and three school board positions.

Deadline for filing nomination papers is Jan. 25.

No Help to District Attorney
On the surface, the Wisconsin Supreme Court ruling last November which revoked warrant signing powers of district attorneys, should have resulted in less work for the Outagamie County district attorney's office.

But, at present it means a much bigger work load for Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer, Asst. Dist. Atty. Richard Hamilton and their staff.

Schaefer and Hamilton are digging into the files in an attempt to bring out and re-examine outstanding warrants issued by district attorneys and their assistants as far back as 1957.

The outstanding warrants are those which were issued but persons named in them have not been arrested.

Signed by Judge
In order for the warrants to become valid and legal again, a designated official other than the district attorney must sign them. County Judge Gustave J. Keller has been signing warrants since the Supreme Court ruling that followed a Milwaukee test case.

Following preliminary examination Schaefer and Hamilton indicate there are about 92 warrants where review is necessary. They include those issued by Schaefer and Hamilton: A. W. Ponath, county corporation counsel who sometimes acts in the capacity of district attorney; former Dist. Atty. George J. Greisch and former assistant district attorneys James Bayorgeon and Gerald Block.

There are far more than 92 warrants still outstanding, but most are valid because they were signed by judges, Schaefer said. Some of the outstanding warrants date back to 1944.

Two Issued Friday
Two new warrants were issued Friday, following review. Schaefer said. He and his staff are starting with the most recent outstanding warrants and are "working back."

They are not sure how long their task will take, but conceded it will be quite some time before number 92 is pulled from the file.

"Each case will be independently studied and reviewed to determine appropriate action to be taken in light of past and present circumstances," Schaefer and Hamilton said.

In several of the first cases considered, it was found that the complaining witnesses have indicated there are about 92 warrants where review is necessary. They include those issued by Schaefer and Hamil-

Against Planners' Advice
Commission Okays 3 Rezoning Bids on Newberry, Denies Two

Action by the Appleton Plan Commission paved the way today for possible commercial and industrial development of E Newberry Street, contrary to recommendations of professional planners.

The commission had five rezoning requests affecting the Newberry Street area in the 13th Ward before it. Three were approved and two denied.

About 25 persons attended the meeting to discuss the ramifications of any rezoning on a street which local regional and national planners say should remain residential.

The commission report will come before the Appleton Council Wednesday night for approval or rejection.

Want Both Sides
Some property owners, land developers and real estate speculators favored changing the present zoning status of both sides of Newberry Street. However, Ald. Glenn Thompson

The Most Rev. Stanislaus Bona, bishop of the Green Bay Diocese, blessed St. Thomas More School during dedication ceremonies Sunday. The church, convent, and school were constructed for $765,000.

Break From Weatherman
Appleton's 16 ice rinks are ready now.

The word came today from Harold Jerke, park department superintendent.

"We finally got a break from the weatherman and were able to make some ice over the weekend," Jerke said.

The rinks, scattered throughout the city, are made by the park department and then turned over to the supervision of the recreation department.

Skating facilities have been in poor shape thus far this winter but Jerke said there should be a definite improvement from now on.

Two Supervised
The only rinks with warming facilities and adult supervision — and recorded music thrown in for good measure — are Jones and Meade Park skating centers.

At the other rinks, skaters are on their own. While lacking warming shacks, some rinks have lights.

There are no skating rinks at Edison and Huntley schools this year.

The principal at Edison reportedly objects to having a rink there, and the area normally used for skating at Huntley will be needed by contractors putting an addition onto the present school.

One hockey rink is open at Jones Park in addition to the regular large rink for general skating. Another hockey facility is nearing completion at Erb Park across from the main rink.

List Centers
Skating centers are ready now at Jones, Meade, Erb, Alicia, Hoover, Linwood, Pierce, Arbuthnot and Northwest Kwanan Parks, along with Goodland Field, McKinley, Lincoln, Foster, Columbus and St. Pius X schools, and the area south of the Memorial Drive bridge.

"We will continue making ice at all rinks but let's hope the weather doesn't get too cold. That isn't good either," Jerke said.

He said a few skating rinks needed work but most are in good shape.

Faulty Chimney Blamed in Fire Saturday Night

A defective chimney was blamed for the blaze that routed seven persons, including a bedridden mother and her four children, from their east side home Saturday evening. Appleton Fire Chief Roland Kuehl said this morning.

A determination on cause of the fire was made after department officials and inspectors examined the Earl A. Breitenfeldt home, 227 E. Winnebago St.

Insurance agents also were at the scene this morning, but a loss estimate had not been made.

Kuehl said the fire started where the chimney ran between walls on the first floor, near the bathroom area. Flames spread rapidly between the walls and into the second floor, and attic, coming out the roof.

Extensive Damage
The second floor and attic were extensively damaged by flames, firemen said. There also was considerable smoke and water damage throughout the house.

Firemen remained at the scene until 3 a.m. Sunday, although the blaze was nearly out about 10 p.m. Report of the fire was turned in at 7:45 p.m.

Those who were forced to flee the house into near zero weather included Mrs. Vera Breitenfeldt, Mrs. Ryan, 3128 N. Onueida St., who was examining Mrs. Breitenfeldt after she returned home Thursday from a Madison hospital where she had been treated for a heart condition, and her four children, ranging in age from 8 through 13.

The Breitenfeldts were looking for quarters to rent today.

$150 Reported Taken During Tavern Break-in OSHKOSH — Burglars sometime early Sunday broke into Losse's tavern at 2116 Jackson St. and took an estimated $150 from vending machines and coin-operated games.

The burglary was discovered when James Andrea came in to clean and found pry marks on the juke box. Further investigation showed a coin operated pool table also had been broken into.

City police said the burglars apparently had entered the building through a basement window. George Losse, owner of the tavern, said the burglars got about $50 in change and $100 in bills.

Drama and Nonsense Delight Theater Goers

An evening that began on a young lady of considerable serious note ended with an ample offering of hilarity as Appleton High School presented three one-act plays Saturday evening. Sandwiched between the drama and melodrama was an innocent spoof that broke the serious mood set by the initial play and primed the audience for the pure nonsense ahead.

"The Wall," by Verne E. Powers and directed by Miss Susan Nason, was starkly set with only a wall overlooking the sea at the fishing village of Arretto. Mary Lisa Berryman, a

Motors, Space Issues Advance

Moderate-Size Transaction Aid In Heavy Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — Motors, aerospace issues, steels and airlines advanced as the stock market pushed further into record high ground early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

Many moderate-size transactions combined with a variety of big blocks to pile up volume.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.90 at 991.20.

General Motors gave blue chips leadership as it spurred a couple of points following a statement by GM President James M. Roche that auto sales in 1966 will be equal to or better than the record results of 1965.

Rails, tobaccos, electronics and nonferrous metals also showed a generally higher trend. Drugs were lower.

Little change was shown by farm implements, mail order, retail and building materials.

AP Average

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.5 at 369.7 with industrials up 1.8, rails up 1.5 and utilities up .2.

Both the Dow industrials and the AP average were pushing ahead of the historic closing highs they made Friday.

Expectations of the fifth good auto year in a row were widespread. At the same time, demand for steel from the auto industry was unexpectedly strong.

The increase projected for defense spending gave the aerospace defense, electronics and other defense-related groups reason for continued strength, even while some profits were taken.

Prices were generally higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Call Request For Subpoena 'Confiscation'

MENASHA — In a counter brief filed today, City Attorney Richard Steffens argued that the subpoena request of George St. Peter, special Town of Menasha annexation attorney, for survey data would be "an unjust confiscation" of the work product of an attorney.

In November St. Peter had subpoenas served on four city officials in an effort to get information about the conduct of the recent 183-acre annexation from the Town of Menasha.

The Fond du Lac attorney specifically requested all the ex. of survey notes used by the city engineering department prior to Sept. 11 in their compilation of the annexation package.

Director of Public Works Robert Poss testified all his notes had been turned over to Steffens. So St. Peter, at a third affirming hearing, put Steffens in the stand in an attempt to obtain the survey data.

Steffens testified under oath that none of the data had been compiled before Sept. 11 and therefore that the subpoena demand had been satisfied. He repeated this as his main argument today in the counter brief.

Furthermore Steffens said he data that was given him by Poss after Sept. 11 is confidential because it is part of the "work product" of an attorney necessary for the successful defense of this litigation.

Green Bay Man Denies Trying to Outrun Squad

Rodger F. Dumks, 26, Green Bay, pleaded innocent this morning in Outagamie County court Branch 2 of fleeing and attempting to elude a police officer.

Dumks was arrested by county traffic police early Sunday morning. The arresting patrolman said the arrest followed a high speed chase which began near Seymour about 1 a.m. and ended three miles north of Pulaski.

County Judge Gustave J. Keller set bond at $100 and ordered trial for March 21.

Height in Question

Hearing Set Tuesday on Butte des Morts Bridge

OSHKOSH — The height of a new U.S. 41 bridge should be above the Lake Butte des Morts water level will be the subject of a public hearing at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the courthouse.

The Corps of Engineers of the Department of the Army will conduct the hearing.

The hearing is on the application of the State Highway Commission for federal authority to reconstruct the existing lift bridge, and construct three new fixed bridges and fill for the widening of the existing causeway.

The present lift bridge and approaches will be replaced with a three-span fixed girder structure raised to provide a 30-foot vertical clearance above standard low water. It also will provide a width of 76 feet for the navigable channel.

Purpose of the new bridge is to carry the two northbound lanes of U.S. 41.

The proposed fill construction calls for about 5,018 feet of causeway to be widened to reconstruct U.S. 41 from a two-lane to a four-lane divided highway. The causeway approaches to the center span also will be raised.

Oral statements will be taken. The Corps of Engineers also is asking that important facts and arguments be submitted in writing in triplicate.

Testimony will be on the suitability of location and the adequacy of plans in reference to navigation and for flood control. Persons may suggest changes they consider desirable.

During the 1965 navigation, will be from 8:30 to 11:45 a.m. season from mid-April to Nov. 1 to 4 p.m. To be enrolled a 1. boat traffic required 518 child must have reached his openings of the bridge. This is fifth birthday on or before Sept. 1 and 664 openings in 1964, 1966. Birth or baptism certificates will be required.

Assemblyman William Steiger (R-Oshkosh) urging all persons interested in the bridge to attend the hearing, stated the State Highway Commission is particularly interested in the public's reaction to the height level requested. The level of 30 feet above standard low water is estimated to provide clearance for more than 95 per cent of the boats using the waterway, Steiger stated.

"If there are any who dispute the request of the Highway Commission they should make their views known at this hearing," the assemblyman declared.

"Since the proposed bridge must be built in order to accommodate the motorist, boater and taxpayer, all views should be heard at this hearing."

He pointed out construction costs for the bridge rise dramatically if the bridge is built over the 30 foot standard low water level. Costs would be increased by about 25 per cent if the height was raised to 40 feet and would be increased by almost 50 per cent if raised to 50 feet.

Sunday Accident

Youth Critical After Wounding With Pistol

MENASHA — An afternoon of others target practiced with a pistol.

Police were told Kimball picked up a pistol from a table after the youths came indoors, cocked it and put it to his head.

Jerry Hannan, 19, one of his companions, told the youth not to pull the trigger, but too late.

The pistol, fully loaded, fired, wounding Kimball in the head as he stood in the living room.

Lt. Richard Guenther, sheriff's department investigator, said the gun was loaded at the time of the mishap, leading police to believe the shooting was accidental and was not a "Russian roulette" incident.

A group of youths met earlier in the day and headed out to the police theorize Kimball did not know the pistol had been re-loaded after they had completed target practice.

Easter, 1967, Completion Set For New Church

Bids to be Let for Congregational Edifice in March

MENASHA — Plans for the new edifice of the First Congregational Church, to be located near the eastern end of Nicolet Boulevard, will be completed by the end of March, and bids let shortly after that, the annual meeting of the congregation learned Sunday evening.

Allen B. Adams, co-chairman of the building committee, said that the architectural firm of Irion and Reinke, Oshkosh, expects the $354,000 edifice to be ready for occupancy by Easter, 1967.

The structure will be erected on a site donated by the late Mowry Smith Sr., chairman of the Menasha Corp., on the Neenah side of the boulevard.

Joseph Kubicka, co-chairman of the building committee, told the meeting that an offer to exchange the Nicolet Boulevard site for several lots on Menasha's Broad Street had been declined, on the grounds that "no church of the type we visualize could be built on this site."

The architects stated that plans would have to be extensively revised if a church were to be located on the site, Kubicka reported. The offer was then declined, first by the Board Building Committee and the Board of Trustees, then by the Advisory Council, which consists of all of the church's officers and committee chairman.

City Planner Walter Rasmussen and Regional Planner Eugene Franchette said they had not changed their recommendations against the rezonings. The comprehensive plan prepared for the city by Harland Bartholomew Associates, St. Louis, also indicated the one side of Newberry should remain residential.

More Expected

The commission did request that a complete plan be prepared for the remaining undeveloped properties on Newberry that are still zoned residential.

It is anticipated the commission will be deluged with additional rezoning requests now that it has reversed its position.

Mayor Clarence Mitchell told the commission he felt the entire north side of Newberry Street should be rezoned for commercial-light manufacturing.

National Health Test Will Treat Subjects From Cancer to Colds

What do most Americans and their families know about health?

They will be able to test their knowledge — on subjects ranging from cancer to the common cold, pediatrics to menopause, heart disease to birth control — on CBS News' "The National Health Test", Tuesday, Mrs. Orville Buhl, president of the Outagamie Unit of the American Cancer Society announced. The program will be shown at 9 a.m. on the CBS television network and on television station WBAY, Channel 2.

"The National Health Test" will consist of questions often asked by patients of their doctors and questions designed to test knowledge that doctors believe their patients should have. The American Cancer Society, along with other national health agencies are cooperating with CBS on this project.

Miss Lynda Hollenbeck, chairman of the Outagamie American Cancer Society Units public education committee, is contacting members of the society to contact their friends and neighbors to encourage them to see the program.

'Girl Friend Trouble' Makes Youth Unruly

A 17-year-old Appleton youth who reportedly "was having trouble with a girl friend," threw himself in front of a moving car in the 1200 block of N. Mason Street about 2:30 p.m. Sunday and later gave ambulance attendants, police and nurses considerable trouble.

Appleton police, who are still investigating the incident, said the youth apparently was not hurt. However, he remained at Appleton Memorial Hospital today for observation.

The youth was taken to the hospital in Lindy's Ambulance. Hospital attendants called police when the youth began giving them a hard time.

Police said the youth was subdued after he began struggling and became abusive.

Correction

St. John Little Chute won the "B" division in the 15th annual invitational debate tournament Saturday at Neenah High School with a 6-0 record. West Bend and Oshkosh high schools, both with 5-1 records, were incorrectly listed as Division B winners in information supplied for Sunday's Post-Crescent.

Investigation in Fire Continues

Investigation is continuing into a fire that destroyed the John Buss home, 829 W. Brewster St., last Wednesday and sent Buss, 78, to the hospital.

Meanwhile Buss is still listed in critical condition at Appleton Memorial Hospital. He reportedly received second and third degree burns over about 30 per cent of his body, and also suffered from smoke inhalation.

Appleton fire officials said today they are investigating several aspects of the fire in order to determine how it started. Flames apparently broke out near a space heater in the living room of the small structure, firemen said last week.

Buss was found lying on the floor of an attached garage, near a door. He apparently was attempting to escape from the burning structure when he was overcome.

France Probably Will Offer Britain Common Market Seat

Unanimous Vote Requirement
Repeal Will Remove Veto Power

By NEIL SLIS
LUXEMBOURG (AP) — For eign ministers of the Common Market nations prepared to meet today amid expectation that France would offer to ad mit Britain to the European Economic Community in ex change for retention of the re quirement that all major de cisions by the group be unani mous.

France is ending a six-month boycott of Common Market ne gotiations with the other mem bers — West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The French proposal was like ly to meet stiff opposition. The other five countries say they are determined not to modify the Rome Treaty, the Common Market's constitution, for a vague French promise to admit Britain.

Vague Promise

The five believe that France, which blackballed Britain three years ago, will press hard to keep its veto before turning the vague promise into a concrete invitation for Britain to join.

Under the eight-year-old Rome Treaty, the unanimity rule was to give way to a quali fied majority vote starting last Jan. 1. France was expected to ask for at least a postponement of the shift until the veto ques tion is decided.

Observers say that Britain shares France's fear that the change for retention of the re quirement that all major de cisions by the group be unani mous to interfere with a na tion's sovereignty.

Veto Needed

French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville was expected to argue that no member nation could do without a veto over future decisions on commercial policy toward non-members, as well as in such fields as trans port and tariffs.

He was also expected to put forward President Charles de Gaulle's claim that the Common Market's nine-man Executive Commission has abused its rights by proposing greater power for itself.

At France's request, the Ex ecutive Commission was barred from the session and the meet ing is being held here instead of in Brussels, headquarters of the Common Market.

Okay Expected For Change in Postal Service

Asks More Window Hours, Parcel Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairmen of the Senate and House Post Office Committees predicted today Congress will stamp "approved" on a $15-mil lion administration package which would beef up postal service in thousands of Ameri can communities.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D., Okla., and Rep. Tom Murray, D-Tenn., said in separate inter views they favored moves an nounced Saturday to restore parcel post and post office win dow service eliminated in a 1964 economy move.

"This is just the first step" in administration efforts to im prove postal service, Monroney said.

Increased Cost

Congressional approval is necessary because of the $15-million annual cost of the in creased service.

Saturday's announcement said President Johnson has ap proved a recommendation by Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien that six-day-a-week parcel post service be restored in 6,091 communities with pop ulations over 3,000. Since 1964 one day each week has been skipped for deliveries in these cities except where postmen used motor vehicles to deliver parcels.

The other move will be in creased window service at night and on weekends in nearly 15,000 post offices. Postmasters will also be authorized to re sume Saturday sales of money orders.

Efficiency Measures

Assistant White House news secretary Joseph Laitin, an nouncing the plans, said im proved efficiency would reduce the postal deficit, estimated at $400 million this fiscal year, despite the $15-million cost of the improved service.

"I believe Congress will go along," said Monroney. "They kicked about the cutbacks."

Lacerda during his term moved the residents of several favelas to housing projects built with U.S. loans under the Al liance for Progress.

Many of the refugees now sheltered in schools and other public places have indicated they want to go back to their hillside homes. Some have re turned.

Will Rebuild

Those whose homes were smashed in the slides strug gled to rebuild. Plenty of material is at hand in the city's dumps and refuse piles.

One problem is the residents' reluctance to move. Many had to be taken away by force even at the height of the rainstorms. When Lacerda tried to move residents of a large favela to "Vila Kennedy," which was fi nanced by the Alliance for Progress, many refused to go and moved into other favelas.

The big objection to moving is one of convenience. Most of the favelados work near their shacks.

But there's an even stronger force keeping the favelados in their precariously perched hill side shacks.

"I was born here and I grow up here. This is my home. I don't want to go," one favelado said.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Candace Mossler, 47, and Melvin Lane Powers, her 24-year-old nephew, go on trial today in the 1964 slaying of Mrs. Mossler's mil lionaire husband.

Mrs. Mossler and Powers, son of Mrs. Mossler's sister, Eliza beth Weatherby Powers, are charged with the budgeon-stabbing death of Jacques Mossler, 69, a financier who had exten sive banking and loan company interests.

The state charges that Mrs. Mossler and Powers plotted the June 30, 1964, death of Mossler because he had discovered a love affair between the two.

Freed On Bond

Circuit Court Judge George Schulz, who set aside six weeks of the trial, freed the two on $50,000 bonds each after an ear ly preliminary hearing, during which time the state produced much of the evidence it planned to use in the trial.

Powers was arrested in Hous ton, Tex., three days after Mos sler's body was found in his plush Key Biscayne apartment. Mossler's head had been smashed with a heavy object and the killer had stabbed him 39 times.

When she first heard of Pow ers' arrest, Mrs. Mossler said: "Oh, pooh. Mel didn't do it." She scoffed at state claims that she and Powers were lovers.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The president of General Mo tors, James M. Roche, said to day that the average annual demand for cars and trucks in the United States could exceed 11 million by 1970.

"Everything points to another good year ahead of us — the fifth in a row," he said. Record sales of 9.3 million cars and 1.5 million trucks were achieved in 1965.

Speaking at the annual con vention of the National Auto mobile Dealers' Association, Roche said the demand for motor vehi cles "has been increasing at a pace that few people outside the industry thought possible."

He said the industry had pro gressed because of free competi tion. "Government regulation would discourage competition as we have known it," he said.

The regulatory standards would tend to become the maxi mum as well as the minimum. Regulation would have a severe and adverse effect upon our business," Roche said more accurate data on the causes of accidents must be developed. He said manufacturers were exploring all phases of the problem in their laboratories.

There is no business for the House floor this week.

No timetable has been set for delivery of a series of presiden tial messages spelling out de tails of proposed legislation out lined in the State of the Union message. Some messages may be sent to Congress this week.

Schools Target of Increased Pressure

NEA Calls Birch Society Biggest Troublemaker, Also Big Help

BY G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The public schools have been the target of increased pressure and harassment during the past three years, a commission of the National Education Associa tion reported today.

The NEA's Commission on Professional Rights and Respon sibilities said the John Birch So ciety was the No. 1 troublemak er. However, the Birch Society also appeared as No. 20 on the list of groups helpful to the schools.

The commission report said there has been an increase in censorship or criticism of books used in the schools since its last survey in 1962.

Conference Critics

The report was prepared for the 18th annual conference on "Critics and the Schools." It summarized the response to a questionnaire of nearly 15,000 teachers and other educators.

The survey showed 56 per cent of the local reporting noted a damaging effect from destruc tive criticism, compared with 49 per cent in 1962. The percentage of schools reporting "much damage" rose from 11 to 16 per cent in the same period.

Ninety per cent of criticism in the form of charges of commu nism or subversion in the schools, the report said, came from three states — California, Michigan and Ohio.

These three states also report ed the greatest activity by right wing groups in connection with book criticism and censorship, the report said.

Pressure Groups

Without distinguishing be tween the types of pressure and harassment, the report listed the chief trouble-makers in this order: The John Birch Society, teachers unions (which compete bitterly with the NEA for teach er memberships), citizens' com mittees, Chambers of Com merce, American Legion, Dan Smoot Reports, and Parent-Teacher Associations.

However, on the list of those groups which had been most helpful, the PTAs were away out in front, followed in order by Chambers of Commerce, American Association of University Women, American Legion, busi ness and professional women's clubs and citizens' committees.

The report said right-wing groups, parents and religious groups led the attack on school books.

Army to Start Withdrawal From Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The U.S. Army infantry reinforcement unit first ordered to Berlin by President John F. Kennedy in 1961 will begin its permanent withdrawal today, the Army announced.

Informed sources said the de cision to end the program was influenced by lessening East-West tensions in Berlin.

Some 600 men of the 1st Bat talion, 21st Infantry, 24th Divi sion were scheduled to move to West Germany through Commu nist East Germany by road and train. A similar convoy will fol low Wednesday.

The remaining 400 men of the battalion will move on regularly scheduled U.S. duty trains.

Kennedy inaugurated the troop reinforcement program during a period of high East-West tension in August 1961 when the Communists started building the wall that still di vides Berlin.

The outgoing battalion was the 17th and last in what be came a series of rotating infan try units brought to West Berlin at three-month intervals to re inforce the Army's Berlin Bri gade. The units were drawn from U.S. forces in West Ger many.

Without the reinforcing unit, the Berlin Brigade strength is reduced to about 6,000 men.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A 10-year-old girl whose saddle horse bolted down a railroad track escaped death when the animal caught its leg between two cross ties on a trestle and hung sus pended 26 feet above a creek.

Margaret Bobo said she climbed up the horse's body Sunday and out of danger. She apparently was uninjured.

Police shot the pet horse, named "Star," after halting a freight train 300 yards from the trestle where the animal was hanging.

Blazes Trail of Seven Birdies in San Diego Open

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Billy Casper has triumphed in 30 PGA tournaments but none exceeded the thrill of victory in Sunday's San Diego Open.

The 34-year-old Casper, veteran of 11 pro years, finally won before the home folks by blazing a trail of seven birdies for a last-round 64 and a 16-under-par 268 for 72 holes.

"I've always wanted to win at home," said Casper, "so this is a very gratifying victory. I worked awful hard last year but couldn't win it when I shot a 64 on the last round and tied the tournament record.

Casper and Wes Ellis of West Caldwell, N.J., tied 267 in 1965 but Ellis won on the first hole of the playoff.

This tourney was worth $40,000, and Casper's share was $3,800.

Four strokes behind in second place were Tommy Aaron of Gainesville, Ga., and Tom Weiskopf of Columbus, Ohio.

Don January, a veteran on the tour from Dallas, faltered to a 73 and 72-hole score of 273, tying for third with young Paul Bonadon of Palm Springs, Calif., who fired a par 71.

Defending champion Ellis carded a 73 in the final round after a 68-68-305 had kept him in contention.

Balfanz Wins Central U.S. Ski Crown

Helgestad Places Second in A Class; Olson Tops Veterans

CARY, Ill. (AP) — John Balfanz of Minneapolis, Minn., the North American record holder, won the Central U.S. Ski Jumping Association's annual meet at Norge Ski Club Hill for the second straight year Sunday in the final preliminary for the U.S. team tryouts.

The three weekends of qualifications for the five-man national squad for international competition will start next Saturday and Sunday at Blackhawk Hill near Middleton, Wis.

Balfanz leaped 191 and 192 feet, although he approached neither his North American record of 325 feet set last year at Iron Mountain, Mich., nor the local hill record of 212 feet by Gene Kotlarek of Minneapolis.

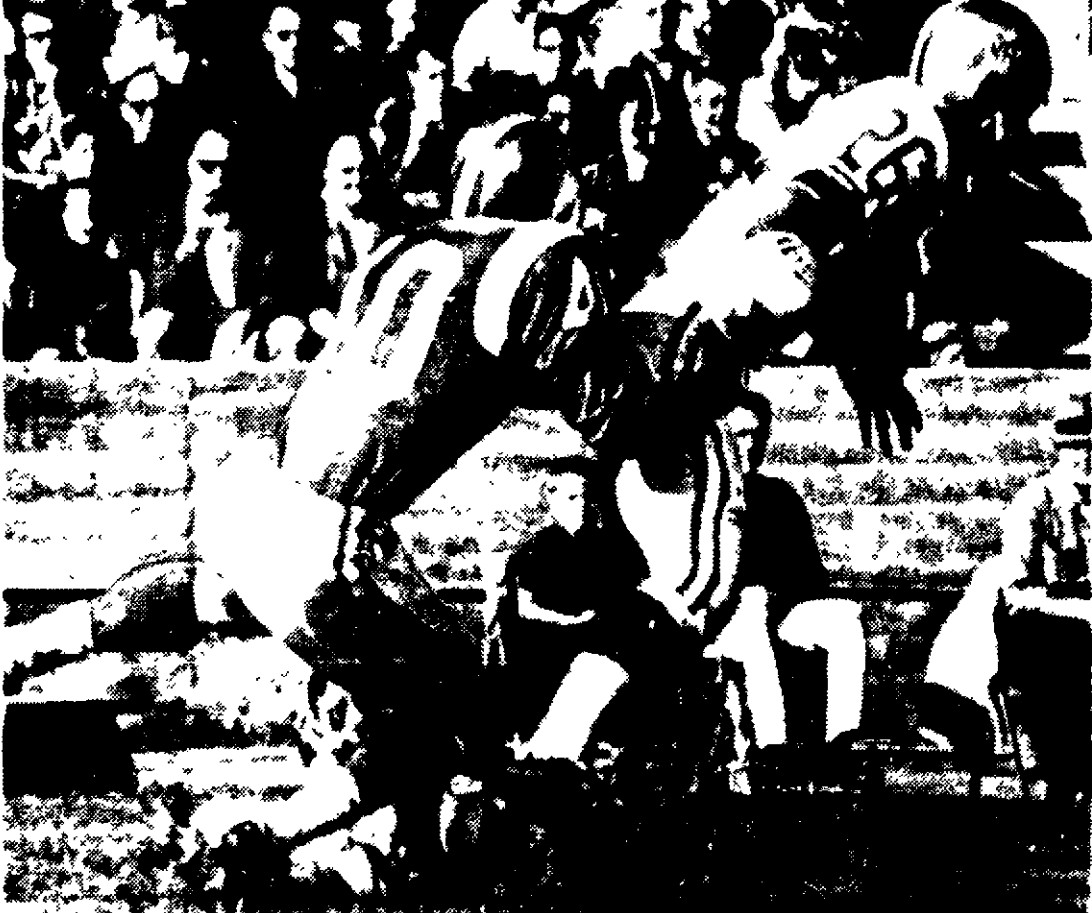

Kotlarek, 1960 and 1964 Olympic champion who won the second of the three weekends of preliminaries at Eau Claire, Wis., did not compete Sunday. Neither did Dave Hicks of Duluth, Minn., defending Central U.S. champion.

Both are expected to challenge Balfanz in the qualifications for the Federate Internationale de Ski competition at Oslo, Norway, Feb. 17-27. The Middleton meet will be followed by similar two-day tryouts at Duluth Jan. 28-30 and Westby, Wis. Feb. 5-6.

Dag Heppstad of St. Paul, Minn., was second to Balfanz in Class A competition Sunday and Willie Erickson of Iron Mountain was third.

Rick Phillips of Eau Claire, a 19-year-old freshman at Eau Claire State, won the junior competition with jumps of 183 and 173 feet, outdistancing runner-up John Drum of Minneapolis.

Billy Olson of Eau Claire won the veterans' competition for the third straight weekend. He started his string at Bayfield, Wis., and also won the preliminaries at Eau Claire. Olson scored 180 and 163 feet.

Expansion No. 1 Topic After Miami Picks First 4 Players

By MIKE RATHET

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Expansion was the No. 1 topic at the American Football League meetings today after a long weekend of house-cleaning in which nine players, including San Diego's marmoth Ernie Ladd and Earl Faison, were shipped to new locations.

The kickoff was the Ladd-Faison trade, with the two all-

San Diego lost tight end Dave Kocourek a second team All-AFL selection.

Kocourek, Buffalo fullback Billy Joe, quarterback Eddie Wilson of Boston and New York linebacker Wahne McDaniell were selected by the Miami Dolphins as the first of 32 veteran players they will receive under the AFL stocking formula.

With the first of the expected player shifts made, attention focused on the league owners, who had expansion listed as the main item on the official agenda.

Preliminary discussions were started with an eye toward expansion to a 10th team for the 1967 season.

Heading the list of franchise applicants were Chicago, Los Angeles and Anaheim, Calif.; Washington, D. C.; Milwaukee, Portland, Ore., and Phoenix, Ariz. It was expected that if a decision could not be reached the list would at least be pared.

The Dolphins, who become operational as the ninth team this year, are expected to name four more of their selections today.

Under the stocking plan, the existing eight teams freeze 23 players. Miami then selects two from each team. Each of the existing clubs then freeze another player and the Dolphins make two additional selections.

The multi-player trade was announced Saturday during the second period of the AFL All-Stars 30-19 victory over Buffalo while Ladd and Faison still were playing. Then on Sunday,

East Intercepts 8 Passes, Wins Pro Bowl Tilt, 36-7

West's Brodie Has 6 Aerials Picked Off; Jim Brown Tallies 3 Touchdowns to Gain Award

By BOB MYERS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — It's elementary in football that the less you give up the ball the more chance a team has to win. When you surrender the ball 10 times, well—

"That's the whole story of the game."

Author of this was Coach Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers, whose favored West team was drubbed 36-7 by the East in Sunday's National Football League Pro Bowl game.

Two fumbles and eight pass interceptions by the alert East certainly contributed to the downfall of Lombardi's warriors.

There were other factors, notably the East's on-target quarterback, Frank Ryan of the Cleveland Browns; his teammate, fullback Jim Brown, and the St. Louis Cardinals' kicking specialist, Jim Bakken.

Jim Brown—there were six fellows named Brown in the game—scored three touchdowns to equal a pro bowl record.

True, his combined yardage for the scores was five. But he banged out a total of 64 and was named for the third time as Back of the Game.

Completes 10 Passes

Ryan completed 10 of 21 passes for 182 yards, a 51-yard throw setting up one touchdown on the West's two.

Bakken's contributions were three field goals of 41, 36 and 42 yards.

But for some 60,124 fans in Memorial Coliseum, perhaps the main show finally centered on the West's No. 1 quarterback, John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers.

Brodie set a Pro Bowl record, too—for the number of intercepted passes he threw. The number was six.

It broke by one Otto Graham's mark in the 1953 game.

Neither Otto nor Brodie cherishes this distinction.

The vast crowd didn't mean to be cruel nor sadistic. But after John's fifth interception, they were actually pulling for him to remain in the game and break the tie.

Minnesota's Fran Tarkenton replaced Brodie and when he had to come out with a badly cut lip, the people cheered Brodie's return.

The record soon after was shattered as Mel Renfro of Dallas bagged a Brodie bullet and rushed in 20 yards for the East's final touchdown.

The West's brightest—and possibly only—moment came with four minutes remaining.

Little Tommy McDonald of the Los Angeles Rams made a typical McDonald 31-yard catch, leaping high to grab the ball and fall into the end zone.

The pass carried some consolation, too. John Brodie threw it.

Hull's 4 Goals Not Enough as Hawks Fall, 6-5

Canadiens Whip Boston to Move Into Tie for First

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Chicago's Golden Hawk is feathering his nest while Detroit's Red Wings, led by hot-shot Norm Ullman, are homing in on first place in the three-team National Hockey League pennant scramble.

Bobby Hull stepped up his drive for an NHL goal-scoring record Sunday night with a four-goal flurry against New York but his slumping Black Hawks dropped a 6-5 verdict to the Rangers.

The loss, second for the Hawks in two nights, dropped them into a tie for the league lead with the Montreal Canadiens, who whipped Boston 3-1.

The Red Wings, meanwhile, rode Ullman's hat trick and the goalending of Roger Crozier to a 4-0 triumph over Toronto that lifted them within one point of the leaders. Detroit, unbeaten in its last six starts, has lost only four times in 20 home games this season.

Second Hot Trick

Ullman, an 11-year veteran who led the circuit with 42 goals last season, is the Wings' home-ice ringleader. His second hat-trick of the campaign gave him a total of 22 goals and 18 of them have been scored at Detroit.

It took two goalies, starter Cesare Maniago and masked Don Simmons, to hold off a one-man comeback by Hull, who fired three goals in the final period for a career total of 300. With 36 in the Hawks' 37 games this season, he needs 15 more to crack the single-season record he shares with ex-Montreal stars Maurice Richard and Boom Boom Geoffrion.

LITTLE CHUTE — St. John

High School's Dutchmen, struggling desperately to avoid a still deeper confinement in the lonely doldrums of the Fox Valley Catholic Conference cellar, played possum for three quarters against Marinette Central here Sunday afternoon, and then exploded for 28 points in the closing stanza only to fall two tallies short in absorbing their sixth straight loop loss, 62-60.

In nearly pulling the game out of the fire, the Dutchmen fought back from 11-point deficits which Central held on three occasions in the third period—the last at 40-29 late in the frame.

Plagued by numerous bad passes and other mistakes in the initial three segments, the Chuters could muster but 32 points during that entire span as the Cavaliers had little difficulty in gaining a 42-32 advantage heading into the final eight minutes.

Lead the Way

With Tim Hartjes and Lloyd Hackel, leading the way with five and four tallies, respectively, St. John narrowed the gap to 46-42 with 5:45 left in the contest.

Rocky Slawinski coined a pair of free throws for Marinette to up the margin, but Gary Romensko matched those for the Dutchmen, before Hackel hit two buckets and Oscar Schuler one to put the Chuters in front, 50-48, midway through the quarter.

Central regained the lead on six straight free throws, before Schuler and Hackel earned fielders for St. John to knot the count at 54-all.

It was still deadlocked at 58 with 1:37 showing on the clock, but Tom Lund meshed a pair of charity tosses and Phil Peanosky rimmed a bucket to give Marinette the edge at 62-58 with :30 left.

The Chuters' Hackel got two back on a goal-tending violation, but Schuler's last-ditch effort from mid-court was wide of the mark as the horn sounded.

In achieving their third league win in eight outings, the Cavaliers hit on 21 of 48 field goals tries for 44 per cent, but the Dutchmen did slightly better on 23 of 51 for a 45 per cent mark.

The losers, now 1-6 in league play, were paced by Hackel with 23 points, followed by Gerry Janssen with 10 and Hartjes with nine.

Marinette's balanced scoring attack was led by Steve Sequin and Slawinski with 18 and 15 markers, respectively, while Peanosky added 13 and Lund 10.

CENTRAL — (13 16 13 20—52): Slawinski 5 5 1, Lund 4 2 2, Sharkey 1 4 5, Sequin 6 6 4, Peanosky 5 3 4. Totals 21 20 16.

ST. JOHN — (11 12 9 28—60): Hartjes 3 3 5, Schuler 3 2 3, Hackel 9 5 0, Romenski 1 2 0, Janssen 4 2 3, Hammen 0 0 0, Eckes 2 0 5, Felzer 1 0 2. Totals 23 14 18.

Springs Quint Deals Lourdes 63-55 Surprise

FOND DU LAC — St. Mary Springs led all the way en route to a 63-55 upset victory over Oshkosh Lourdes here Sunday in a Fox Valley Catholic Conference contest.

The Springs, coached by Don Gosz, jumped off to a 22-11 lead midway through the second period and saw it sliced to 22-20, before a late basket and free throw gave the Ledgers a 25-20 halftime lead.

Springs, hitting on 43 per cent of its field goal attempts, was led by Jim Murphy's 16 points. Tom Shaw and Jim Harbridge chipped in with 13 and 11, respectively. Greg Graber and Bill Ratzburg led Lourdes with 16 and 11, respectively. Unofficially, Lourdes meshed 45 per cent of its floor shots.

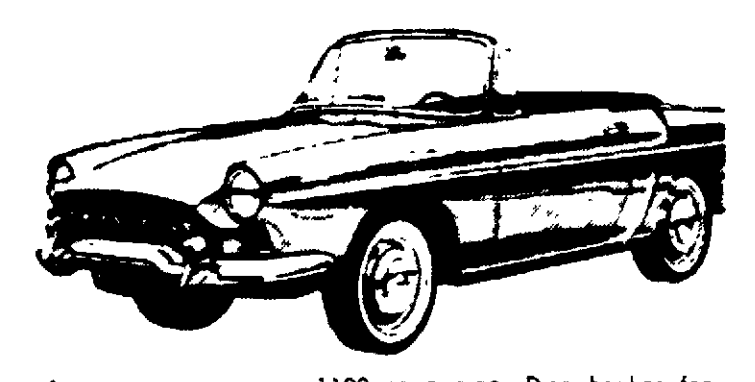

The loss knocked Lourdes from its share of second place with De Pere Abbot Pennings, a 59-54 victor over Premontre Sunday. Springs boosted its FVCC mark to 3-4.

Gophers' Lou Hudson Leads 91-82 Win

By LEW FERGUSON
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota's Big Ten opponents may wish Gopher basketball star Lou Hudson was carrying a bigger handicap.

Hudson's current handicap is a two-pound cast on his right hand, stretching from the fingers to the elbow. The cast is there to protect a bone at the base of the right thumb which Hudson broke Dec. 18 against Creighton. It'll remain at least four more weeks.

He returned to action after missing seven games Saturday night and — as Minnesota's "one-armed bandit" — wrecked Indiana's hopes for an upset of the Gophers.

Close-In Shots

Twisting and squarming through the Hoosier defense for close-in shots, helping lead the charge on fast breaks and maneuvering expertly for rebound position, Hudson scored 20 points. He also grabbed 10 rebounds while playing about 60 per cent of the game, won by Minnesota 91-82.

He hit eight of 16 shots from the field, but had to shoot his free throws left-handed and made only four of 10. Coach John Kundla may remedy that situation before Saturday's game at Michigan, however, by having Hudson shoot the old under-hand, scoop way.

Hudson's performance was amazing, considering the fact he cannot shoot with his right hand, which is normal for him, he cannot dribble except with his left hand and he must make all but very short passes with his left hand.

Was Just Great

"There's no question that he's the greatest one-handed player in the country, Kundla enthused. "He was just great. "I was worried he'd be pressing, but once he hit his first basket there was no stopping him. I was hoping he'd get in there and forget about the cast, and that's exactly what he did."

Indiana Coach Lou Watson saw a little awe by what he saw. "I don't know whether there is another player in the country who could have done what I saw Hudson do," Watson said. "I don't think Michigan has anybody who can take Hudson and stop him, one-handed or not."

Hudson was happy about his showing in his first return to duty since the injury. But he didn't surprise himself.

"I wasn't surprised, really," the lithe 6-foot-5 North Carolina native said. "I knew I could shoot a left-handed lay-up. And I was just there to get the rebounds."

Used Great Moves

What Hudson did to compensate for the fact that he cannot shoot from any distance was to maneuver into a one-on-one situation with his defender, then use his great moves and mobility to get past him for a close shot — left-handed, of course. He even shot lay-ups from the right side with his left hand.

"I can shoot a hook and short jump shot with my right hand," he said, "and I can catch the ball, but that's about all I can do with my right hand. "But it feels a lot better now," he smiled.

Minnesota's Lou Hudson, playing with a heavy cast on right arm, tries a layup shot Saturday night in a Big Ten game against Indiana. Hudson has a broken bone in his thumb. Despite the cast, Hudson scored 20 points to lead the Gophers to a 91-82 win over the Hoosiers. (AP Wirephoto)

East '11' Spurred by Constant Reminders Of West Superiority

'You Can't Give Ball Up 10 Times and Win,' Says Vince; Brown to Return

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eastern quarterback Frank Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier Ryan of Cleveland, was asked said Sunday his Eastern Division about motivation. He responded five by constant reminders of the West's superiority and responded to the challenge like a prize.

Collier, whose East team had just crushed the West 36-7 in the National Football League's Pro Bowl contest, was speaking of the 115 record Eastern teams compiled in interdivisional competition this season.

"Pros can't just sit and listen and not respond," said Collier. "This team wanted to win. The attitude was great."

Jim Brown voted the game's outstanding back for his three touchdown effort affirmed his coach's reaction.

"We hear that the West is better all the time," he said. "We'd like to charge that and today gave us a good chance."

Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi, who led the West said the East's eight interceptions and two recovered fumbles turned the game into a rout.

"That's the story," he said. "You can't give up the ball 10 times and win," said Lombardi gruffly. "That's the story of the game."

Brown gave most of the credit to the East's offensive line.

"We had the best offensive line we've had in this game," he said. "We had our (Cleveland) and died during the English in-guards — Gene Hickerson and ten-county championships. St. John Wooten — and Philadelphia's tackle Bob Brown. They were great."

"The pass protection was tinghamshire. At the two-mile good, and that's the key to this mark he put on a spurt in an kind of game. There's only so much running you can do," apparently suffered a heart attack.

A doctor and ambulance responded quickly but he was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Pete Retzlaff, of the Philadelphia Eagles and the Eastern Conference All-Stars makes a long reach, but cannot get his hands on the play as Ed Meador (21) of the Rams. The East won, 36-7 (AP Wirephoto)

Wildcats Defeat Vanderbilt, 96-83; Duke Wins Again

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Adolph Rupp took the transition out of Kentucky's stratified, transitional, pherobic paraboloid and the sting out of Vanderbilt's attack.

As a result, second-ranked Kentucky defeated third-ranked Vanderbilt 96-83 Saturday and extended its unbeaten basketball victory string to 12.

The loss, only the Commodores' second in 16 games, came after Vanderbilt built a 13-6 lead in the first five minutes. It was during that time that the Wildcats employed a 1-3-1 zone defense — or as Rupp likes to call it, a stratified, transitional, pherobic paraboloid.

But when he saw it wasn't working, Rupp had his players change tactics. They made the transition to the man-to-man defense and slowed the Commodores the rest of the way.

Gambled On It

"We gambled on it at the start," Rupp said, "and I suppose everybody who was watching wondered why. Well, I wondered why too."

The 64-year-old Rupp, the winningest active coach in college basketball, devised his 1-3-1 defense two years ago. But since he always abhorred the term zone defense, Rupp denied that it was a zone.

"We never have used the zone at Kentucky and never intend to," he said, his tongue firmly planted in his cheek. "That was no zone. It was simply a stratified transitional, pherobic paraboloid."

Zone or paraboloid, the Wildcats will have the next week to work on it. They, like most of the Top Ten are idle this week.

Others that don't play until the close of final examinations are Duke No. 1, Vanderbilt Providence No. 6, Texas Western No. 8 and UCLA No. 9.

Conference Lead

With its victory, Kentucky took the lead in the Southeastern Conference, but the Commodores can get even Feb. 2 when the teams play at Vanderbilt in the game at Kentucky. Vanderbilt's Clyde Lee scored 30 points but the Wildcats' Lou Dampier and Pat Riley combined for 52.

Duke extended its winning streak to 12, crushing Wake Forest 101-81 behind the 36-point performance of Jack Martin. The Blue Devils now are 14-1.

UCLA wasn't so fortunate. Stanford defeated the Bruins 74-69, handing the defending NCAA champions their first Pacific Athletic Conference loss after 36 straight victories. Art Harris tied the host Indians with 24 points.

Brigham Young No. 7 also was a loser among the Top Ten, dropping a 107-101 decision at Wyoming.

Kansas, meanwhile, barely escaped with triumphs. Providence and 10th-ranked Kansas, meanwhile, barely escaped with triumphs.

Harp Named to Duke Grid Post

Quits Cornell for Shot at Major College Coaching

DURHAM, N.C. (AP) — Tom Harp is leaving Cornell to accept the prestigious job of head football coach at Duke University. "To fulfill personal desires to participate in major college football."

Duke officials announced Sunday that Harp, head football coach at Cornell the last five years, will succeed Bill Murray as head coach at Duke. The terms of Harp's contract with Duke were not made public.

Harp said he was "delighted to join the Duke family" and make the switch from the Ivy League to the Atlantic Coast Conference.

"Duke represents the type of school with academic standing which I have been connected with and it will give me the opportunity to fulfill personal desires to participate in major college football," Harp said.

The 38-year-old coach, who was the youngest Ivy League coach the first four years he was at Cornell, said he planned to bring in "from one to five" new assistants but did not say who they might be.

Murray resigned Nov. 20 after 15 seasons at the Blue Devils' helm to become executive secretary of the American Football Coaches Association.

The 1965 Cornell club ended its season with a 4-3-2 record and a fifth ranking nationally in rushing offense. Cornell had an average of 258.1 yards per game.

Englishmen Star in Boston's KC Games; Pennel Harassed

BOSTON (AP) — Three Englishmen were hailed today as rescuers of the 40th Knights of Columbus Games.

Alan Simpson, a 25-year-old clerk was an overwhelming choice for the John F. Kennedy Memorial Award as the meet's outstanding performer Saturday night after he set a K of C record of 8.41 in winning his first attempt at two miles in doors.

John Whetton, a 24-year-old school teacher, posted his 23rd victory in 25 indoor mile starts with a finishing kick that caught him in 4.06.6 and countryman John Cooper surprised himself in capturing the 600 in 1:11.2.

The crowd of 9,021 cheered the performances in a comparatively dull meet which launched the major indoor season in the East. There was only one sour note.

Late in the evening, John Pennel, who has cleared 17 feet in the pole vault, concentrated on a third and final attempt at an indoor record of 16.9'. The crowd was virtually silent.

Then, as Pennel began his school teacher, posted his 23rd victory in 25 indoor mile starts with a finishing kick that caught him in 4.06.6 and countryman John Cooper surprised himself in capturing the 600 in 1:11.2.

Fox Lutheran JV's Divide a Pair

The Fox Valley Lutheran High School junior varsity cagers edged Wayland Academics 33-30 Friday. Saturday dropped a 58-52 decision to the Northwestern Preps.

In the Wayland game FVL held a 15-10 halftime lead and held off a fourth quarter rally for the win.

Northwestern jumped off to a 22-7 first-quarter lead and increased it to 27-7 before FVL began to make a comeback, but by that time it was too late.

Although the Junior Foxes shot at 51 per cent, the Preps were able to get off 21 more shots than the Foxes to make up for a lower shooting percentage.

Portch of Northwestern and Johnson of FVL, both had 23 points. FVL is now 7-3 for the season.

Beloit's extended holiday is over and Carleton and Monmouth have seized the lead in the Midwest Conference basketball battle.

Carleton dealt Beloit its first setback 68-57 Saturday to drop the Buccaneers into third place.

Monmouth matched Carleton's 6 1 conference record by nipping Ripon 86-84 in the last minute. Beloit now has a 4-1 Midwest mark.

Knox punished Lawrence 84-72. St. Olaf beat Coe 82-72 and Cornell outlasted Grinnell 75-71 in other Midwest games Saturday.

Monmouth, beaten only by Beloit, inflicted Ripon's second two-point defeat of the weekend when sub Keith Coppen dropped in two tie-breaking free throws with 38 seconds left. They were his only points of the game.

Bob Ellis sank 25 points and Dick Rodgers 24 for Monmouth. Doug Anderson's 19 was tops for Ripon which had lost 81-79 to Knox Friday night.

St. Olaf broke away from a 56-56 tie for its 10-point victory over wireless Coe and now holds fifth one notch ahead of Ripon. Cornell's triumph against Grinnell kept it in seventh.

Beloit is host to St. Olaf this Friday night before its new showdown with Carleton. The other Wisconsin members, Lawrence and Ripon, face each other Saturday at Ripon. The Red Men also have a non-conference game Wednesday at St. Norbert.

St. Louis beat Baltimore 136-128 in another afternoon game.

Second-year man LaRue Jackson took over for Chamberlain against Russell and scored only 11 points while Russell scored 19, got 14 rebounds and blocked several shots before going out late in the third period with the bruised shoulder.

Process Fights Auto Body "Cancer"

Experts who deal with it call it auto body cancer. Owners who watch it slowly destroy their once shiny new cars simply call it rust. You often have heard the question "Why doesn't someone do something about it?" Well someone has — and it's the Ziebart Auto-Body Rustproofing Center at 1731 N. Richmond St., Appleton. Ziebart has a proven process that will stop car body "cancer" or rust, and to support this sincere claim Ziebart gives its customers a written guarantee or a valuable certificate.

Process Developed Decade Ago

The Ziebart process was developed in Detroit by Kurt Ziebart over 10 years ago. In 1954 he did a friend's car which today is still rust-free. Ziebart and two associates opened a rustproofing shop in 1960 and today Ziebart is the nation's largest automotive rustproofing operation.

The Appleton shop is owned by Verheist Brothers "Red" Nolan, known to many in this area, is the manager. Red explains that there are four basic requirements for guaranteeable rustproofing and only Ziebart has all four. They are: (1) Sealant — Rustproofing material must penetrate into seams and crevices, give permanent corrosion protection, be non-flammable and maintain protection from -40° to +275°.

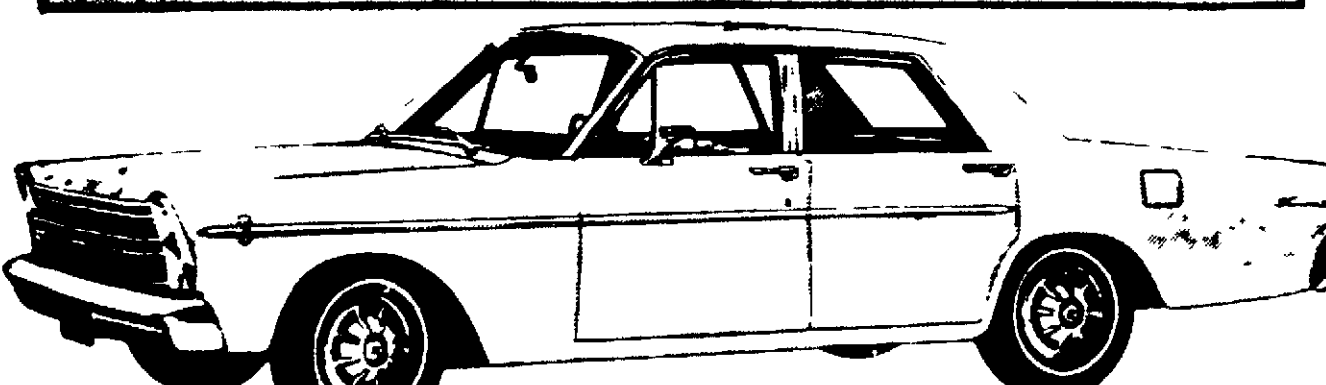

Only Ziebart Sealant fills all requirements. Ziebart is U.S. Government recommended. (2) Tooling — Spray tooling must be capable of reaching into all critical areas. Only Ziebart has patented special no-mist precision spray tools with 1/8 inch tips specifically designed for auto-body rustproofing as well as complete undercoating. (3) Training — Only Ziebart factory trains all dealers in auto body construction and maintains constant quality control. (4) Instructions — With over 340 different models of cars and 475 models of trucks, knowledge of every model is vital for accurate and complete application. Only Ziebart provides this information to their franchisees.

Red further states that the rest of the complete job, including steam cleaning and a complete exterior or polish wax job is only slightly more than the cost of undercoating which only covers 10% of the exterior rust area. With Ziebart you get 100% protection in over 22 critical areas. Terms are also available. Mr. Nolan added, "on a new car that is still rust-free or plan to purchase a new car and want to keep it rust-free, investigate the Ziebart process with an unqualified guarantee or valuable certificate. Phone 739-2111 for more information or stop in at 1731 N. Richmond St., Appleton or in Green Bay at 429 DuSable.

MU's Bob Wolf Gets 36 Points in Victory

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Marquette national recognition as one of the best guards in the country is a player without a play but try.

Wolf scored 18 points in each half. He sank 13 of 27 field goal attempts and 10 of 11 free throws. His previous high was 32 points against North Dakota for the Warriors Saturday night as he pumped in 36 points in a one-sided 94-74 victory over highly regarded Indiana State.

"We don't have a single play set up for Wolf," said Coach Al McGuire. "He just free lances on the court. With a good supporting cast next year he could

Lawrence Bows To Carleton but Defeats St. Olaf

Indiana State, beaten only once previously in 15 games, tried to offset Marquette's height with a full court press.

The Warriors shattered it with repeated fast breaks. They led by as much as 35 points in the last 10 minutes of the game before McGuire began substituting.

McGuire left Wolf in while removing the other starters and during a four-minute stretch before he departed with 455 to go, he clicked on four jump shots and two free throws.

The Warriors go into a two-week break for exams with an 8-7 mark and return to action at Detroit Jan. 29.

There may be some new faces in the starting lineup at Detroit. "I may shake things up a bit after the semester break. I had Fred Nordeen took the 200 yard butterfly. Other Lawrence firsts against Carleton were recorded by Pete House (in the 110 yard free style) and the 500 yard freestyle, in which House established another Lawrence record with a time of 6 minutes flat, breaking Fred Nordeen's 1964 record of 6:11.

Against St. Olaf, the Vikings took firsts in all eight events. In the 400-yard medley relay, Sander, Melnick, Nordeen and Hugh Denison teamed for the win. Pete House broke the St. Olaf pool record and the LU varsity record in the 200 yard medley with a time of 1:57.8.

House also broke the Lawrence varsity record as he took first in the 160-yard individual medley with a time of 1:47.3, retiring Chris Vogel's 1961 record of 1:50.2.

Other Viking firsts against St. Olaf were registered by Nordeen in the 200-yard butterfly, Sanders in the "200" backstroke, Denison in the "500"

Tunney Has Been Hospitalized for More Than Week

BOSTON (AP) — Former heavyweight champion Gene Tunney, 68, has been in New England Baptist Hospital more than a week for what his doctor described as a checkup.

Dr. Russell S. Boles Jr. said Sunday that Tunney is "doing very well" and is expected to leave the hospital at the end of next week. He did not disclose whether Tunney is being tested for any specific ailment.

Dr. Boles was Tunney's physician when he entered New England Baptist Hospital in 1958 for treatment of a stomach disorder.

The Lawrence mermen now have a 1-2 record. Their next meet is here Saturday against Ripon.

Against St. Olaf, the Vikings took firsts in all eight events. In the 400-yard medley relay, Sander, Melnick, Nordeen and Hugh Denison teamed for the win. Pete House broke the St. Olaf pool record and the LU varsity record in the 200 yard medley with a time of 1:57.8.

winding up with four players from each team.

However, the stocking of the Dolphins was by the Ladd-Faison deal and Gillman's blast at Houston Owner Bud Adams for making inflammatory monetary statements that affected San Diego's bargaining position.

The 6-foot-9, 295-pound Ladd and 6-5, 270-pound Faison both had publicly expressed disenchantment with Gillman's reign as coach and general manager and announced they were playing out their options.

Issued Blast

Gillman, in turn, said he would not have such players on his team. So it came as somewhat of a surprise when he issued his blast Saturday, saying:

"When an owner makes a statement to the press that he is interested in such-and-such a player and will give a certain amount of money, that's tampering. Those kind of offers made our bargaining position impossible."

Adams, who recently said he had offered the Chargers three players plus $100,000 for Ladd alone, said that Gillman had initiated the trade talks.

Gillman is just mad because he is losing two all-league players," Adams said. "He came to us during the exhibition season and first mentioned a trade involving Faison or Ladd or both."

Committee Okays Weaver For Cabinet Job

Slated to Head New Department On Urban Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Banking Committee voted unanimously today to approve President Johnson's nomination of Robert C. Weaver, New York Negro, to head the new Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Weaver, slated to be the first Negro ever to serve in the Cabinet, got a far friendlier reception than when he first appeared before the same group five years ago as the nominee to be federal housing administrator. Democratic and Republican members vied in praise of Weaver and his record as head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency which forms the nucleus of the new department.

Weaver said, "I am pleased and flattered by the committee's action."

The 1961 hearings ran two days and four members of the committee voted against Weaver with 11 in favor. Today's hearing lasted less than an hour.

The committee also confirmed unanimously the nomination of Prof. Robert C. Wood of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to be undersecretary in the department.

Committee chairman A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., said the nominations would be reported promptly to the Senate for a confirmation vote.

He said this might come later in the week although there was a possibility Democratic leaders would call them up this afternoon.

First Negro
If all goes as expected, Weaver, 58, will become the first Negro member of the Cabinet.

The bill passed by Congress last year setting up the new Cabinet department allotted to it the functions and personnel of the Housing and Home Finance Agency but nothing else.

Several members of Congress said programs in other departments dealing with air pollution, urban highways and education in slum areas should be transferred to the new department.

After he had signed the bill, Johnson set up a task force headed by Wood, chairman of the department of political science at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, to study the department's organization.

Milwaukee Youth Held for Assault

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A 17-year-old Milwaukee youth was being held by police Sunday for questioning in the rape-beating of a 5-year-old girl early Saturday.

Detective Inspector Leo J. Worlel said the youth matched the description provided by the victim's 27-year-old mother, but added that she has not made positive identification. Worlel said the teen-ager denied the assault.

Police said the youth, who lives a block from the child's home, was taken into custody at home several hours after the attack.

Knowles Picks William Kahl As School Head

Deputy Advanced To Take Place of Angus Rothwell

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — William C. Kahl, 57-year-old deputy superintendent of public instruction and key man in the state school administration for the last 15 years, today was named superintendent by Governor Warren P. Knowles.

The selection was forecast several weeks ago in a Post-Crescent Madison dispatch when it became known that State Supt. Angus Rothwell would become director of the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.

Rothwell's new job will become effective July 1, and today Knowles made the Kahl choice effective at the same time.

Unanimity of Backing
Kahl was urged for the appointment by Rothwell, and Knowles said today that he was impressed by the "unanimity" of backing for the deputy chief of the state school system.

Kahl sat with Knowles at a news conference as the announcement of his promotion was made.

Kahl's term will be for three years, until the expiration in 1969 of the four-year term to which Rothwell was re-elected a year ago. The salary of the office is $20,000. Kahl received $19,000 as deputy.

Kahl is one of the most effective of the state agency spokesmen in legislative relations and is known as the father of the school aid formula which has been gradually liberalized in legislative acts over the years with Kahl's anxious support.

The new state school superintendent is a native of Mount Pleasant, Wis.

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — The cause of the raging pre-dawn blaze that burned out an east side supermarket early Sunday was being investigated today by fire department inspectors here.

Chief David Zuidmulder said his department would probe the ruins of the Sureway Super Market, 1285 Main St., in attempt to determine the origin of the fire that resulted in an estimated $185,000 loss.

Zuidmulder said the fire may have started from faulty wiring but the possibility of arson was not being ruled out.

Green Bay firemen battled the roaring fire for more than four hours in 10 - below zero weather.

Seven fire department rigs from three fire stations arrived on the scene about 3 30 a.m., minutes after a police officer spotted heavy smoke coming from the building while making his rounds in a squad car.

Just as the firemen began hooking up their lines, the plate glass window on the front wall of the 50 by 190-foot brick building was blown out and flames shot from inside the structure.

Firefighters poured thousands of gallons of water into the building. Firemen were stationed on Main street, windows on both the east and west side of the building on an adjoining building and worked from the 100-foot aerial ladder.

About a half-hour after firemen began hosing the blaze, prefabricated wood beams on the ceiling collapsed and the roof caved in, making it impossible to get at the flames on the floor of the building. The fire is water seeped into the floors of the building was $60,000 and stock and fixture damages were approximately $125,000.

Firemen stationed themselves on the roof of an adjoining building which housed a beauty shop, a tavern and a paint store. That building was not damaged by the fire, although

Store officials said the loss to the building was $60,000 and stock and fixture damages were approximately $125,000.

Three pumps, the aerial ladder, the rescue squad and chief's car were on the scene and about 10 three-inch hoses were used.

Firemen used pike poles through the openings created by the collapsed front windows and pulled pieces of roofing away so that hoses could get at the flames.

An air hammer was used to drill a gaping hole in the front of the building so that the water that began rising gushed out onto the street.

Sewers on St. George Street, running north of Main Street, were flooded with debris and froze, causing the streets to become flooded.

Clear Sewers

Street department workers used picks and shovels to clear the sewers. The below zero weather made footing treacherous for firefighters as the water that seeped out onto the street quickly froze.

Ice and icicles formed on the outside of the building and on the sidewalks and adjoining parking lots despite the intense heat of the flames.

A rear portion of the building which served as a warehouse for the other six Sureway stores in the city also was destroyed. The storage area contained snaps.

Reporting to Congress on the foreign aid program during the 12 months ended last June 30, Johnson said:

"There is much in the less-developed world that causes us deep concern today. Enmity between neighbor nations that threatens the hard-won gains of years of development effort; reluctance to move rapidly on needed internal reforms; political unrest that delays constructive programs to help the people, an uncertain race between food supplies and population."

The President added, however, that there also was reason to be hopeful for the future. And he said the $3.5-billion aid program strengthens such hope.

Seeking Communist Desertions

U. S., Vietnamese Launch Huge Propaganda Drive in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States and the Vietnamese government have launched the most massive propaganda offensive of the Viet Nam war, aiming to trigger defections from Communist ranks.

Geared to the Lunar New Year, the campaign includes distributing 140 million leaflets, many in air-drops in Communist territory.

The main part of the drive is on the fringe of the Communist movement, have responded. This included posters, message carriers and the like and not large numbers from hard-core fighting units.

The Viet Cong are being bombarded with prayers, songs, promises of a bright future, or family references to waiting husbands and families and the prospects of future death in battle.

Promote Money

Another element is money. Each Viet Cong is promised money to himself and his family as well as bonuses for such things as weapons. The bonuses range from 200 piasters — about $11 — for a pistol to 6,300 piasters for a 12.7mm machine gun.

A veritable blizzard of safe-conduct passes are being dropped almost daily, carrying factor exists in the Communist camp.

The propaganda offensive is geared to the Chieu Hoi or open arms campaign, which long has sought to get the Viet Cong to desert.

Not too long ago, an American sergeant ordered away a Vietnamese with a carbine who was pestering him in a language he could not understand. The Viet names then went to a nearby government post and gave him up as a Viet Cong. Since both militiamen and the Viet Cong wear black pajamas, the American didn't realize he was dealing with an enemy defector.

Predict Victory

An astrologer's forecast for Binh Ngo, the Year of the Horse, predicts victory for the government in early autumn. The forecast is distributed in leaflets.

The U.S. campaign has some interesting angles. A song "Tet Without You" was written by a popular Vietnamese penner of songs. It is of how lonely the family of Viet Cong are on Tet — the lunar new year — because their men are far away.

Tet is the traditional period for families to reunite.

Truce for Tet Starts On Thursday

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, today ordered all American troops to cease firing for 78 hours starting at noon Thursday in observance of the Vietnamese lunar New Year holiday, Tet.

Westmoreland's order seconded the decision of the South Vietnamese government to halt fighting during the national celebration. Similar instructions went to South Korean, Australian and New Zealand troops fighting alongside the Vietnamese and Americans.

The truce more than doubles the 30-hour cease-fire observed by Allied forces during the Christmas holiday. But it falls 18 hours short of the Tet truce proclaimed by the Viet Cong. They have promised not to attack from 11 p.m. Wednesday to 11 p.m. Sunday, a total of four days.

Red Proposal

Westmoreland ordered a cease-fire from noon Thursday to 6 p.m. Sunday. It was assumed the Allies agreed on different hours to avoid giving the impression they were simply reacting to the Communist proposal.

There was no sign in the Saigon sector of any letup in fighting before the holiday, although elsewhere in the country military activities continued at a slow pace.

In a lightning stroke, a Viet Cong company attacked a government infantry and armor school at Thu Duc 10 miles north of Saigon at 1 a.m. While one part of the guerrilla force fired two mortar shells as a diversion, another hit part of the compound with automatic weapons.

Officer School
The guerrillas pierced the barbed wire of the officers' candidate school and raked the billets, killing five wives and three children of Vietnamese officer candidates in their beds. Three other children were wounded.

Armored troops fought back and killed 10 of the Viet Cong, a government spokesman said. These bodies were left behind, but the fleeing Viet Cong were seen to be carrying other dead or wounded.

One Viet Cong was captured. Twenty-six civilians were killed and four were wounded when a busload of civilians hit a Viet Cong mine on the road from Moe Hoa to Cai Lay, near Kien Tuong, 35 miles south of the capital.

Northwest of Saigon, a Viet Cong attack on a U.S. troop convoy backfired. Supported by planes roaring in over the treetops, the Americans turned the bitter fight 20 miles northwest of Saigon into a drubbing for the guerrillas.

Iron Triangle
The Communists heated up the ebbing 11-day U.S. sweep on the edge of their Iron Triangle by spraying the convoy with

Poverty Program Lags in Wisconsin

There has been some concern and not only by Republican opponents over President Johnson's massive program for the Great Society that the steadily increasing needs of the Vietnamese war should mean cutbacks in the nation's domestic projects. The new budget contains some $7 billion more for the Department of Defense than last year. But there may be even a more cogent reason for doubt over some of the new programs.

The anti-poverty program is having hard spending in Wisconsin, not because of lack of federal funds or an over-subscription by the poor. There simply don't seem to be many people very interested in it.

Operation Head Start, perhaps one of the most imaginative of the anti-poverty programs and one that is having considerable success in slum areas of large eastern cities, is operating only in a few places in Wisconsin. It is generally aimed at five year old children and the State Department of Public Instruction reports that 73 per cent of Wisconsin five year olds are going to kindergarten. Those who are not are almost all in rural areas which do not yet have K through 12 school systems. If their parents were deeply concerned about opportunities for their five year olds, they would have pressed for kindergartens and probably soon will have them anyway in the district reorganizations still going on.

Northern Wisconsin, generally considered a depressed area, can't get the expected number of participants in a work experience project because practically everyone is working. Adult education programs have not attracted many registrants since there already are many operating at the state's existing educational centers. And while the trouble two VISTA girls had at a Bayfield Indian reservation may have been in part a personality conflict, there is also some evidence that some local church agencies provide the same type of services.

In part the apathy in Wisconsin is due to the general economic health of the state and the almost full employment. In part it may be due to the backgrounds of the people of this state who have generally believed in making their own way. In great part it is due to the educational and welfare services Wisconsin already offers and has for years. It may be that only in the neglected areas of Milwaukee will the programs have much relevance.

The lack of enthusiasm for the programs in Wisconsin does not necessarily mean that they should be abandoned nationally. The states and local communities which have failed to progress, both economically and humanely, with the needs of their citizens certainly should profit. And there are deep and serious problems in the large cities.

But the suspicion must remain that a great deal of the pressure for the Great Society programs comes from the image of the father figure which President Lyndon Johnson has been so anxious to create. There just may be a lot of individuals and states which insist, "Daddy, Please! I want to do it myself!"

A Negro in the Cabinet

When President Johnson nominated Robert C. Weaver to become the first Negro member of the Cabinet as Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, he passed up the opportunity to give the country some interesting background on the appointment.

We are interested, for example, in why it took this long to select a man to head the new cabinet department. When the President early last year renewed the late President Kennedy's request for legislation to establish such a department, he told Congress it was vital that Congress act speedily. And then it took him many months after the legislation was passed to get around to naming a man to head the agency.

We would also be interested in knowing

Calling the Red Kettle Black

Cuba and China are having a dispute that all the non-Communist nations can enjoy.

Some days ago Castro announced to the Cuban people that there would have to be a cut-back and belt tightening because the Chinese had reneged on their agreement to exchange Chinese rice for Cuban sugar. Since rice is a staple of the Cuban diet and the economy is almost totally based upon sugar, this was a considerable blow.

But the Chinese blasted right back that there never had been the long term agreement which Castro claimed they had cut. Castro had further not stuck to how many other persons the President tried to interest in this appointment before settling on Weaver. Weaver had been obviously available for some time. Even when President Kennedy sought to create the department it was assumed he would be the appointee. He has been the acting head of the department since its formal creation last November. We know that Mayor Henry Maier was one of the men approached to take the job, and since it took the President so long to act we assume there were others.

At any rate the appointment is now made, and we can assume the Senate will get around to approving it in a few more months despite the rash of other business the President proposed in his State of the Union message.

Communist ethics, according to the Chinese, because he had "unilaterally and falsely" revealed trade negotiations which had not been completed.

The real reason behind the dispute may have something to do with China's economic situation. But it is more likely that the new adherence of Cuba to the Moscow line in Communist ideology is really the cause of it all. And here Castro has little choice. The Soviet Union keeps his economy going even at its present sputtering pace. Nor has Fidel said anything more about the whereabouts of Che Guevara, his former close revolutionary friend—who favored the Chinese brand of Communism.

would be akin to rapping Motherhood or the American Flag

But, with this sort of thing, it is no wonder other nations peer at our affluence in wonder. It is an unusual place, indeed, where animals are regarded so highly.

At any rate, officials of the firm say it will operate only in Oklahoma for the time being, and we can't say that we are particularly upset by that.

Bogan's Election Contested

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Jan. 28, 1966.

Capt. Henry Turner presented a petition to the State Assembly immediately after its organization, contesting the seat of the Hon. W.H.P. Bogan, assemblyman from Outagamie County, on the ground of illegal vote, but mainly on the vote cast by persons disfranchised as it is claimed, by act of Congress for a willful violating the draft into military service of the United States.

Several affidavits were presented to substantiate the claim. The case was sent to a select committee of three Republicans and two Democrats by nearly a rally vote. Mr. Bogan, himself voting against the reference.

There is one phase in this contest we desire to see fully ventilated, and it is a matter of more consequence to the public generally than the determination in favor of against either claimant. We refer to the right to vote of persons accused of being "Draft Skeptics."

Could Congress legally disenfranchise any citizen of his rights as such by a mere passage of an act?

Is not a man presumed to be innocent of a crime until "legally convicted"? It has ever seemed to us that these are plain propositions, admitting of no doubt whatever.

It is claimed, however, that a man can legally relinquish a right or abandon all right to citizenship and we admit that the theory of our government endows him with that right by self-expatriation and in no other voluntary manner whatever.

It is urged in reply, in a rather incautious manner, that he thereby voluntarily dissolves his citizenship and if he returns can only be restored by special pardon from the President or by complying with terms and conditions set by the provided by legislation.

If this argument holds good, which is not yet clear in our mind, then of course it follows that a voter who is not a full citizen of the United States is in no way affected by the act of Congress in question and is just as good an elector as any man in the State even though he deserted from every draft made.

The unfortunate class of men in this State foolish enough to run away from the draft and afterwards return home, occupy an anomalous position, and if they act wisely, they will seek and obtain a pardon from the President of the United States with all possible dispatch.

Taylor Writes

Threat of Chinese Atomic Attack Must Be Faced Squarely by U. S.

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has officially defined Peking's A-bomb status. To millions among us the effect is like a floating crap game with the life of the United States at stake.

Mr. McNamara tells us (1) Red China has a nuclear stockpile; (2) the Defense Department is surprised by the speed achieved in Mao's missile delivery program, far ahead of what we thought; (3) within two years Mao may have delivery systems that can reach Eastern Russia, Korea, Viet Nam, Malaya, India, Japan, etc.; (4) within five years their range may reach Europe and, within 10 years or sooner, the United States.

Taylor

This enemy's nature is clear in our Viet Nam problem. Accordingly, worried millions of Americans wonder whether we should not meet this situation as a part of the Viet Nam impasse while we can still do something about it and before a reign of terror by Mao against America is possible.

DISCUSSION IS HAZY
The problem is intricate. It should not be oversimplified. But much of the discussion about it has also been hazy. Perhaps some clarification is in order.

President Johnson has staged his global peace offensive for a cease-fire in Viet Nam. However, a similar offensive by President Eisenhower during the Korean War, and then the subsequent action we were forced to take, seems forgotten.

In Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams' autobiography, "First-Hand Report," Harper 1961, Pages 48-49, he notes that only our behind-the-scenes threat of the A-bomb finally brought the Reds to the Panmunjom bargaining table.

In May, 1953, President Eisenhower instructed Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to make this threat through Nehru in New Delhi. In President Eisenhower's own language, only "danger of an atomic war" stopped Peking.

At that time we still had an atomic monopoly vis-a-vis Red China, as today. Our only tool, however was holocaust—the outright nuclear bombing of Red China. Moreover, Sino-Soviet unity in 1953 meant we risked Russia's atomic retaliation against our homeland here.

Since then, blessings be, our problem in the particular question of disposing of Mao's nuclear threat has been magnificently simplified. And with Russia facing the same threat from Red China so has our problem of Soviet intervention. On February 17 of last year this column called attention to the Eisenhower action and in April I wrote a series of three articles from the Atomic Energy Commission's immense test center at Mercury, Nevada.

Our H-bombs remain large, but most of our A-bombs have been miniaturized. They now range down from artillery dimensions to bazooka-shell sizes small enough to carry by hand, be thrown, or be planted by our agents. And our Central Intelligence Agency knows exactly where to plant them.

NO ATOMIC CLOUD
If we should decide to do so, we could eliminate Red China's nuclear potential by planting bombs that do not jeopardize human millions or produce any atomic cloud such as often supposed.

It is impossible to understand why we are persistently told that our atomic alternative means the hideous, indiscriminate "killing of China's millions."

Russia bomb America in exchange? The over-all problem has many facets, but this wouldn't seem to be one of them. Who can believe that Mother Russia would blow herself up—which is what atomic exchange with us amounts to—to preserve Red China as a nuclear power? the Russians are ideologists, but they are not idiots. From the Asiatic viewpoint it is hardly conceivable that Russia would retaliate.

The Kremlin leaders are going to take mighty, mighty good care of themselves and of the Communist party inside Mother Russia. It's doubtful if anything on earth could please them more than to get China's nuclear capability off their backs.

If the Viet Nam impasse brings up to this question the decision would be hard. But vital national decisions are only relatively hard. You have to compare them with what you face if you do not make them. And as for Mao today: "I am a Nag," said Kipling's cobra. "Look, and be afraid." But at the bottom of his cold heart the cobra himself is afraid.

Oh, no, we are not fallen helpless in front of the Chinese, the great United States of America.

Legislator in State Gets Part-Time Pay For Full-Time Job

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Of the multitude of public problems receiving political attention, none has been so generally ignored and brushed aside as the difficulties in accommodating the legislative branch of the state to the rapidly changing times and the hugely expanding responsibilities of government.

Freedman

On every other level, money and manpower in governmental services have been enlarged tenfold or more during the last quarter of a century. But the legislature, as the direct voice of the people in controlling that government, lumps along under arrangements that are basically unchanged from those that prevailed at the turn of the century.

No serious student of government who observes the government at close range can avoid some doubts about the adequacy of the legislative system, as no observant person on the sidelines can avoid the conclusion that improvement and reform will be difficult to achieve. The difficulty in getting public support and understanding, probably, has been the principal cause for the inertia in the legislative branch at a time of fast growth in all other services that are constitutionally subject to its will and decision.

AN EXAMPLE

The subject intrudes here today because of a revealing letter from one of the most thoughtful, useful and responsible men sitting in the present legislature.

He will remain anonymous for purposes of this report, for evident reasons.

This representative has made his decision to retire from his seat. He concedes that he would probably do so in any case, because of the nature of his professional interests and concepts of personal responsibility. But he makes some revealing comments, meanwhile, about the personal sacrifices involved for the conscientious politician whose self-respect impels him to perform the kind of job the constitution intended.

"The primary reason is that I can no longer stand the torture of conflict between attempting to do a good legislative job, which should be a fulltime task, and maintaining my practice, which is substantial," he writes.

"I must race home each weekend when we are in session and spend the entire weekend working at the office. This is fine for the first two or three months, but all I can do after that is keep up with some of the simpler routine and the large and more complicated matters tend to be postponed. Of course, this does not help promote good client relationships. When the session concludes, it then becomes a mad race to attempt to recoup lost time. The heavy work of the recouping period means that less time is devoted to careful consideration of committee studies and reports."

This man assumes that his colleagues typically have the same problem, which "means that many of our governmental decisions on the legislative level are scandalously superficial, and it bothers me." Very few legislators, he says regretfully, devote to their responsibilities the time and study needed.

"APPALLING"

"The superficiality of decision making by other elected officials 'appalls,' he continues.

The solution? It must be in a recognition of the fact that the legislator's job is many times as demanding as it was in an earlier generation and that it must be compensated more adequately, perhaps up to fulltime salary. My friend has no illusions about the acceptance of the idea. The system would probably continue to contain some drones and moonlighters, whatever emoluments were provided. Representative government does not insure quality. But better pay arrangements might retain some of the men who are now being driven out of the system and encourage others to compete.

Critics of the legislature in such situations typically and unfortunately visualize the unworthy and the ineffectual when they react. Some day, hopefully, the issue may be considered in terms of the men who should be serving but are now repelled by the financial disabilities the system guarantees for the most useful and creative and responsible.

Scotch Have Third Verdict: Not Proven

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In Scottish law, as you may know, there are not only two possible verdicts in a criminal case: "Guilty" or "Not Guilty." There is a third: "Not Proven." I think that, both legally and morally, this makes more sense than American or English law.

Harris

In too many cases, under our Anglo-American system, a defendant is allowed to go free, or is convicted, simply because the jury must make a decision of "Guilty" or "Innocent." If it cannot, another jury is empaneled until a definite decision is reached. No in-between ground is offered to jurymen.

In Scottish law, the jury will often decide that while the prosecution has not proven its case, that the defendant is guilty; there is still enough evidence to deny him the verdict of "not guilty." The case can be reopened if any real evidence of a substantial nature is unearthed. Here, once a defendant is found "not guilty," he can never again be placed in jeopardy under the same charge.

I thought of this while looking at a new book, "Scots Who Never Were," by Col. Vernon Hinrichs. In his summary of the Hiss case, he writes: "As a Scotman I say without hesitation that in my native country, the verdict in the strange case of Alger Hiss would have been: 'Not Proven.'"

That would have been my verdict, too—in the Hiss case, the Rosenberg case, and others of the same dark complexity. I am convinced that Hiss was guilty of something, that he was involved in murky doings, and that the whole story of the Hiss-Chambers relationship has never been told. But I do not think the government proved its charge in this particular case.

The law customarily asks people to be much more definite than they sometimes can or should be. This is true not only of witnesses, but also of jurymen, who are forced to say "Yes" or "No" when their true feelings lie in the gray borderland between guilt and innocence.

Carl Sandburg once expressed this in his form of the Court oath, and the only honest response of a witness to it:

"Do you solemnly swear before the everliving God that the testimony you are about to give in this case shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?"

"No, I don't," Sandburg's witness replied. "I can tell you what I saw and heard, and I swear to that by the ever living God, but the more I study about it the more sure I am that nobody but the ever living God knows the whole truth, and if you summoned Christ as a witness in this case, what He would tell you would burn your insides with the pity and the mystery of it."

Urges Tax Break Political Contribution Reform Sought by LBJ

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has renewed a call for political fund-raising reforms urged upon Congress four years ago by President John F. Kennedy.

The subject is one Johnson had not pressed since moving to the White House. After two years of silence on the matter, he welded the reform proposals into his State of the Union message.

"As the process of election becomes more complex and costly," he said, "we must make it possible for those without personal wealth to enter public life without being obligated to a few large contributors." To do that, Johnson proposed a tax break for people who make political contributions.

Given today's fund-raising pattern, a tax break for the small donor could be a boon to Republicans. The GOP reports increasing success with small givers.

Contribute On Pattern
Democrats, on the other hand, have become more dependent on big contributions.

In the last presidential election, the Democrats raised $1 million more from 1,000-and-up contributors than did the Republicans.

Johnson said he wants to broaden the participation of the people, and stimulate small contributions.

He coupled that proposal with a call for stern new laws to guarantee full disclosure of political money and its sources.

Past Congresses have shown little zest for this undertaking, even though present federal law requires reports on only a slender fraction of the contributions and costs involved in television-age elections.

Campaign Spending
Candidates for House and Senate are required to report their campaign spending — but some successful contenders have filed accountings which show no outlays at all.

Current law has been interpreted as requiring an accounting only of contributions and spending by the candidate himself. In fact, most campaign spending is handled by state or congressional district committees in behalf of the candidate, and filed in Washington may show only a tiny slice of the actual expenses involved in a House or Senate race.

Americans to Get TV in Germany

They will be operated by the Armed Forces Radio-TV Service.

Johnson said he wants local and state campaign committees brought under the federal disclosure law.

At the same time, he promised legislation to change what he called unrealistic limits on contributions. There is a $3-million ceiling on fund raising and expenditures by a single, national political committee, and a $5,000 limit on the amount any one can donate to a single candidate or political committee.

Multiple Donations
In practice, this has led to multiple committees and to contributions channeled through state and local organizations.

In the last presidential race, the Republicans raised and spent their money through nine separate campaign committees, the Democrats through 16.

Each was entitled to raise as much as $3 million.

Johnson said he wants to "prohibit the endless proliferation of committees."

Republican leaders have urged the same course, in calling for repeal of the $3-million limit.

Driver Leaps Before Train Smashes Auto

OSHKOSH — Charles R. Schneider, 19, 340 Guenther St., Oshkosh, was able to leap from his car moments before it was struck by a Soo Line freight train on Division Street here at 10:46 a.m. Saturday.

Schneider had made a left turn from W. Parkway Avenue to go south on Division Street. Northbound cars caused him to turn onto the tracks and he was unable to free his car from the tracks by backing it up to the street crossing.

Seeing the northbound Soo Line train approaching, he jumped out of the car and received a bruised hand. The tracks parallel Division Street at this point and adjoin the street, curving to the east and crossing the street a few hundred feet south of the accident location.

Damage to Schneider's car was estimated at $1,100.

Patricia Kuhr, 1007 S. Joseph St., Appleton, received a neck whiplash when the car in which she was riding, driven by Ralph Kuhr, 33, of the same address, was struck in the rear by a car driven by Frederick A. Reichel, 67, 508 W. Nevada St., Oshkosh, and was pushed into the rear of a car driven by Donald M. Schlaak, 42, 687 Frederick St., Oshkosh. The accident happened on W. Irving Avenue near Franklin Street at 11:01 a.m. Saturday. Both Schlaak and Kuhr had stopped in traffic at the time.

The Wisconsin conclave is scheduled May 20, 21 and 22 at Kenosha. Atlanta, Ga., will be host to the national convention July 24 through 28.

Safety Programs

District presidents and standing committee chairmen gave their reports at the Saturday session attended by 135 women from throughout the state.

Legislation chairman Miss Isabel Kelly reported that state items in which BPW clubs have taken a stand are support of traffic safety for the state, including the implied consent law and opposition to the 65-foot limit of trucks. Clubs have also voiced an interest on the national level for air and water pollution control and safety on U.S. highways by the adoption of uniform motor vehicle laws and uniform signs, signals and markings.

Progress in the Youth Education and Service areas was discussed by Miss Opal Maschka, chairman of the World Affairs committee. A majority of Wisconsin clubs reported carrying out U.N. programs and many told of programs devoted to specific countries with the purpose of providing information and understanding about their customs and lives.

Fall Seminar

The success of the Fall Seminar series, one of which was held at the University of Wisconsin, Fox Valley Center was reported by Miss Geraldine Hinkel. The seminars were sponsored for the purpose of personal enrichment of members and not for profit-making. Miss Hinkel recommended that the small profit be added to the promotion fund of the Wisconsin Federation for a candidate for national office.

Present at Saturday's meeting was Mrs. Mabel McClanahan, national BPW vice president and presently acting president. Mrs. McClanahan is a candidate for the national presidency at the next convention.

Miss Velma MacMillan, Kenosha state president, bid the groups and presented the Valley BPW presented a slide show after the noon luncheon.

Miss Fuller Engaged to Wed Henry Kaiser

LA CROSSE (AP)—A Lawrence University coed will marry a member of the industrial empire, building Kaiser family, a fellow student whom she met on the second day of school four years ago.

The engagement of Miss Margaret Jane Fuller of La Crosse to Henry Mead Kaiser was announced by her parents Saturday.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of the president of Kaiser Industries Corp. and the grandson of industrialist Henry J. Kaiser, board chairman of the family firm.

Kaiser and Miss Fuller, each 21, are seniors studying psychology at Lawrence.

They will be wed at the Congregational Church in La Crosse. No date for the wedding was set. Each plans to complete his college studies, and Kaiser said he would do graduate work.

The couple has dated steadily since the mid-freshman year.

The engagement was announced by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis F. Fuller, a La Crosse attorney.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Kaiser of La Crosse, Calif., parents of the prospective bride, are the president and vice president of the Appleton-based Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp.

The Kaiser family is one of the nation's leading industrial families. The family's interests include aluminum, steel, and other metals.

Henry Mead Kaiser, a partner of the family, lives in Hawaii. The elder Kaiser is a sales engineer for the Trane Co., manufacturer of air conditioning equipment, here.

legislation are the reopening of NSLI to certain veterans for a period of one year and Medicare.

The possibility of losing a portion of the veterans pension as a result of the 7 per cent increase in Social Security payments had bothered some people, Heinle said. In general veterans will not be affected by the increase and will not lose any pension or benefits.

Heinle said some "border line" cases could lose their pensions though. A married veteran is allowed up to $3,000 retirement income. The raise in Social Security in many cases was enough to push the income over the allowed amount and resulted in cases of disallowing VA pensions in November and December and also for 1966.

Persons losing their pensions for 1966 can reapply after the disallowment period. As it stands the veteran is still 3 per cent ahead, he said.

The veteran is given the benefit of a 10 per cent exclusion on private retirement income. He can deduct up to $300 from the maximum allowed $3,000.

Apply For Medicare

Heinle advised everyone to sign up for Medicare, but not to drop any present insurance until laws on Medicare are clarified and established. By signing up for Medicare will not bar a person from Veteran Administration Hospitals.

Increases in compensation of service connected disabilities ranged from $1 to $50. Those receiving $20 for 10 per cent disability will receive $21 and those receiving $250 per month for 100 per cent disability will receive $300. Heinle said those claiming 50 per cent disability also will be allowed added increases in dependency allowances.

The cost of living has prompted Congress to take a closer look at increases during the second session which began this week, Heinle said.

Mental Health Studied By Waupaca Group

About 250 children receive services from the Child Welfare Department. Of them, approximately 78 per cent would benefit by intensive treatment at a guidance clinic. It was felt that 80 per cent of the parents of these children could benefit from marital counseling. Approximately 10 children per year are sent to a diagnostic center for evaluation.

The county has an average of eight children as patients in institutions outside the county.

Resources for adult mental health also poses a problem. Community leaders feel there are more than 200 alcoholics in Waupaca County, of which approximately 75 are being served by three local chapters of Alcoholics Anonymous.

The only resource available for the senile is one of 10 nursing homes, or commitment to the county institution at Weyauwega or state facility at Winnebago. Approximately 800 persons throughout the county could be classified as having a senile or arteriosclerotic condition. There are no facilities available offering supervision for them.

It is assumed that at least 25 patients per year return from some mental institution. There is a great need for a better program to help them adjust from the institution to the community.

Educational Program

Other recommendations for improving the situation include a mental health association program to educate in matters of mental health, investigation of possibility of purchasing psychiatric services from neighboring clinics; consideration to hire a Welfare Department worker to be responsible for coordination and development of a day care program, and to develop a directory of health and welfare services of Waupaca County.

Loans Raised

Housing loans were raised $500 to $4,000 at 2 per cent interest, John R. Moses, director, Department of Veteran Affairs, said. The loan is normally made on a second mortgage, for the purchase, improvement or construction of a home for the veteran where the cost of the home does not exceed $20,000. The veteran must have at least 5 per cent of the total cost in his own funds and must obtain maximum local financing.

Economic assistance loans approved by the state were raised from $1,000 to a maximum of $1,500. The loans are used for consolidation of debts, emergency expenses, education

Divorces Granted to 2 Appleton Couples In County Court

Two Appleton couples were divorced Friday afternoon in Outagamie County Court Branch 1. In both cases, the divorces were granted on grounds of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Richard F. Metko, 34, 629 S. Story St., was divorced by Ruth L. Metko, 41, 2530 W. Glendale Ave. They were married Dec. 27, 1959. Custody of one child was awarded to the mother and Metko was ordered to pay $25 a week support.

A property settlement also was approved.

The second divorce was granted to Mary E. Lueck, 40, 519 N. Sampson St., against James L. Lueck, 40, 826 E. College Ave.

Married Dec. 28, 1940, the couple had two minor children whose custody was awarded to the mother. A property settlement was approved and a support payment plan was held in abeyance.

Guide Structure

The present lift bridge and approaches will be replaced with a three-span fixed girder structure raised to provide a 30-foot vertical clearance above standard low water. It also will provide a width of 76 feet for the navigable channel.

Purpose of the new bridge is to carry the two northbound lanes of U.S. 41.

The proposed fill construction calls for about 5,018 feet of causeway to be widened to reconstruct U.S. 41 from a two-lane to a four-lane divided highway. The causeway approaches to the center span also will be raised.

Poverty Program Lags in Wisconsin

There has been some concern and not only by Republican opponents over President Johnson's massive program for the Great Society that the steadily increasing needs of the Vietnamese war should mean cutbacks in the nation's domestic projects. The new budget contains some $7 billion more for the Department of Defense than last year. But there may be even a more cogent reason for doubt over some of the new programs.

The anti-poverty program is having hard sledding in Wisconsin, not because of lack of federal funds or an over-subscription by the poor. There simply don't seem to be many people very interested in it.

Operation Head Start, perhaps one of the most imaginative of the anti-poverty programs and one that is having considerable success in slum areas of large eastern cities, is operating only in a few places in Wisconsin. It is generally aimed at five year old children and the State Department of Public Instruction reports that 73 per cent of Wisconsin five year olds are going to kindergarten. Those who are not are almost all in rural areas which do not yet have K through 12 school systems. If their parents were deeply concerned about opportunities for their five year olds, they would have pressed for kindergartens and probably soon will have them anyway in the district reorganizations still going on.

Northern Wisconsin, generally considered a depressed area, can't get the expected number of participants in a work experience project because practically everyone is working. Adult education programs have not attracted many registrants since there already are many operating at the state's existing educational centers. And while the trouble two VISTA girls had at a Bayfield Indian reservation may have been in part a personality conflict, there is also some evidence that some local church agencies provide the same type of services.

In part the apathy in Wisconsin is due to the general economic health of the state and the almost full employment. In part it may be due to the backgrounds of the people of this state who have generally believed in making their own way. In great part it is due to the educational and welfare services Wisconsin already offers and has for years. It may be that only in the neglected areas of Milwaukee will the programs have much relevance.

The lack of enthusiasm for the programs in Wisconsin does not necessarily mean that they should be abandoned nationally. The states and local communities which have failed to progress, both economically and humanely, with the needs of their citizens certainly should profit. And there are deep and serious problems in the large cities.

But the suspicion must remain that a great deal of the pressure for the Great Society programs comes from the image of the father figure which President Lyndon Johnson has been so anxious to create. There just may be a lot of individuals and states which insist, "Daddy, Please! I want to do it myself!"

A Negro in the Cabinet

When President Johnson nominated Robert C. Weaver to become the first Negro member of the Cabinet as Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, he passed up the opportunity to give the country some interesting background on the appointment.

We are interested, for example, in why it took this long to select a man to head the new cabinet department. When the President early last year renewed the late President Kennedy's request for legislation to establish such a department, he told Congress it was vital that Congress act speedily. And then it took him many months after the legislation was passed to get around to naming a man to head the agency.

We would also be interested in knowing how many other persons the President tried to interest in this appointment before settling on Weaver. Weaver had been obviously available for some time. Even when President Kennedy sought to create the department it was assumed he would be the appointee. He has been the acting head of the department since its formal creation last November. We know that Mayor Henry Maier was one of the men approached to take the job, and since it took the President so long to act we assume there were others.

At any rate the appointment is now made, and we can assume the Senate will get around to approving it in a few more months despite the rash of other business the President proposed in his State of the Union message.

Calling the Red Kettle Black

Cuba and China are having a dispute that all the non-Communist nations can enjoy.

Some days ago Castro announced to the Cuban people that there would have to be a cut-back and belt tightening because the Chinese had reneged on their agreement to exchange Chinese rice for Cuban sugar. Since rice is a staple of the Cuban diet and the economy is almost totally based upon sugar, this was a considerable blow.

But the Chinese blasted right back that there never had been the long term agreement which Castro claimed they had cut. Castro had further not stuck to Communist ethics, according to the Chinese, because he had "unilaterally and falsely" revealed trade negotiations which had not been completed.

The real reason behind the dispute may have something to do with China's economic situation. But it is more likely that the new adherence of Cuba to the Moscow line in Communist ideology is really the cause of it all. And here Castro has little choice. The Soviet Union keeps his economy going even at its present sputtering pace. Nor has Fidel said anything more about the whereabouts of Che Guevara, his former close revolutionary friend—who favored the Chinese brand of Communism.

Insurance for Pets

We read the other day where there is a firm being started in an Oklahoma town which will write insurance on various kinds of household pets.

The insurance the company will offer includes hospitalization, surgical care and mortality—for animals only.

Far be it from us to criticize cats and dogs, or their human associates. That would be akin to rapping Motherhood or the American Flag.

But, with this sort of thing, it is no wonder other nations peer at our affluence in wonder. It is an unusual place, indeed, where animals are regarded so highly.

At any rate, officials of the firm say it will operate only in Oklahoma for the time being, and we can't say that we are particularly upset by that.

Looking Backward

Bogan's Election Contested

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Jan. 26, 1966

Carl Henry Turner presented a petition to the State Assembly immediately after its organization contesting the seat of the Hon. W.H.P. Engan, assemblyman from Outagamie County, on the ground of illegal votes, but mainly on the votes cast by persons disenfranchised as it is claimed, by act of Congress for a willful avoiding the draft into military service of the United States.

Sundry affidavits etc. were presented to substantiate the claim. The case was sent to a select committee of three Republicans and two Democrats by nearly a party vote. Mr. Bogan himself voting against the reference.

There is one phase in this contest we desire to see fully ventilated and that is a matter of more consequence to the public generally than the one in question in favor of or against either claimant. We refer to the right to vote of persons accused of being "Draft Skeddlers."

Could Congress legally disenfranchise any Citizen of his rights as such by a mere passage of an act?

Is not a man presumed to be innocent of a crime until legally convicted? It has ever seemed to us that these are plain propositions, admitting of no doubt whatever.

It is claimed, however, that a man can legally relinquish, forfeit or abandon all right to citizenship, and we admit that the theory of our government endows him with that right by self expatriation and in no other voluntary manner whatever.

It is urged in reply, if a citizen legally liable to military duty, he thereby voluntarily dissolved his citizenship, and if he returns, can only be restored by special pardon from the President, or by complying with terms and conditions set to be provided by legislation.

If this argument holds good, which is not yet clear in our mind, then of course it follows that a voter who is not a full citizen of the United States is in no way affected by the act of Congress in question, and is just as good an elector as any man in the State even though he deserted from every draft made.

The unfortunate class of men in this State foolish enough to run away from the draft and afterwards return home, occupy an anomalous position, and if they act wisely, they will seek and obtain a pardon from the President of the United States with all possible dispatch.

Taylor Writes

Threat of Chinese Atomic Attack Must Be Faced Squarely by U. S.

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has officially defined Peking's A-bomb status. To millions among us the effect is like a floating crap game with the life of the United States at stake.

Mr. McNamara tells us (1) Red China has a nuclear stockpile; (2) the Defense Department is surprised by the speed achieved in Mao's missile delivery program, far ahead of what we thought; (3) within two years Mao may have delivery systems that can reach Eastern Russia, Korea, Viet Nam, Malaya, India, Japan, etc.; (4) within five years their range may reach Europe and, within 10 years or sooner, the United States.

At that time we still had an atomic monopoly vis-a-vis Red China, as today. Our only tool, however was holocaust—the outright nuclear bombing of Red China. Moreover, Sino-Soviet unity in 1953 meant we risked Russia's atomic retaliation against our homeland here.

Since then, blessings be, our problem in the particular question of disposing of Mao's nuclear threat has been magnificently simplified. And with Russia facing the same threat from Red China so has our problem of Soviet intervention.

On February 17 of last year this column called attention to the Eisenhower action and in April I wrote a series of three articles from the Atomic Energy Commission's immense test center at Mercury, Nevada.

Our H-bombs remain large, but most of our A-bombs have been miniaturized. They now range down from artillery dimensions to bazooka-shell sizes small enough to carry by hand, be thrown, or be planted by our agents. And our Central Intelligence Agency knows exactly where to plant them.

NO ATOMIC CLOUD

If we should decide to do so, we could eliminate Red China's nuclear potential by planting bombs that do not finally brought the Reds to the Panmunjom bargaining table.

In May, 1953, President Eisenhower instructed Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to make this threat through Nehru in New Delhi. In President Eisenhower's own language, only "danger of an atomic war" stopped Peking.

jeopardize human millions or produce any atomic cloud such as often supposed.

Russia bomb America in exchange? The over-all problem has many facets, but this wouldn't seem to be one of them. Who can believe that Mother Russia would blow herself up—which is what atomic exchange with us amounts to—to preserve Red China as a nuclear power? The Russians are ideologists, but they are not idiots. From the Asiatic viewpoint it is hardly conceivable that Russia would retaliate.

The Kremlin leaders are going to take mighty, mighty good care of themselves and of the Communist party inside Mother Russia. It's doubtful if anything on earth could please them more than to get China's nuclear capability off their backs.

If the Viet Nam impasse brings up to this question the decision would be hard. But vital national decisions are only relatively hard. You have to compare them with what you face if you do not make them. And as for Mao today: "I am a Nag," said Kipling's cobra. "Look, and be afraid." But at the bottom of his cold heart the cobra himself is afraid.

Oh, no, we are not fallen helpless in front of the Chinese, the great United States of America.

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Of the multitude of public problems receiving political attention, none has been so generally ignored and brushed aside as the difficulties in accommodating the legislative branch of the state to the rapidly changing times and the hugely expanding responsibilities of government.

Wyngaard

On every other level, money and manpower in governmental services have been enlarged tenfold or more during the last quarter of a century. But the legislature, as the direct voice of the people in controlling that government, limps along under arrangements that are basically unchanged from those that prevailed at the turn of the century.

No serious student of government who observes the government at close range can avoid some doubts about the adequacy of the legislative system, as no observant person on the sidelines can avoid the conclusion that improvement and reform will be difficult to achieve. The difficulty in getting public support and understanding, probably, has been the principal cause for the inertia in the legislative branch at a time of fast growth in all other services that are constitutionally subject to its will and decision.

AN EXAMPLE

The subject intrudes here today because of a revealing letter from one of the most thoughtful, useful and responsible men sitting in the present legislature.

He will remain anonymous for purposes of this report, for evident reasons.

This representative has made his decision to retire from his seat. He concedes that he would probably do so in any case, because of the nature of his professional interests and concepts of personal responsibility. But he makes some revealing comments, meanwhile, about the personal sacrifices involved for the conscientious politician whose self-respect impels him to perform the kind of job the constitution intended.

"The primary reason is that I can no longer stand the torture of conflict between attempting to do a good legislative job, which should be a fulltime task, and maintaining my practice, which is substantial," he writes.

"I must race home each weekend when we are in session and spend the entire weekend working at the office. This is fine for the first two or three months, but all I can do after that is keep up with some of the simpler routine and the large and more complicated matters tend to be postponed. Of course, this does not help promote good client relationships. When the session concludes, it then becomes a mad race to attempt to recoup lost time. The heavy work of the recouping period means that less time is devoted to careful consideration of committee studies and reports."

This man assumes that his colleagues typically have the same problem, which "means that many of our governmental decisions on the legislative level are scandalously superficial, and it bothers me." Very few legislators, he says regretfully, devote to their responsibilities the time and study needed.

"APPALLING"

The superficiality of decision making by other elected officials "appalls," he continues.

The solution? It must be in a recognition of the fact that the legislator's job is many times as demanding as it was in an earlier generation and that it must be compensated more adequately, perhaps up to fulltime salary. My friend has no illusions about the acceptance of the idea. The system would probably continue to contain some drones and moonlighters, whatever emoluments were provided. Representative government does not insure quality. But better pay arrangements might retain some of the men who are now being driven out of the system and encourage others to compete.

Critics of the legislature in such situations typically and unfortunately visualize the unworthy and the ineffectual when they react. Some day, hopefully, the issue may be considered in terms of the men who should be serving but are now repelled by the financial disabilities the system guarantees for the most useful and creative and responsible.

Strictly Personal

Scotch Have Third Verdict: Not Proven

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In Scottish law, as you may know, there are not only two possible verdicts in a criminal case "Guilty" or "Not Guilty." There is a third— "Not Proven." I think that, both legally and morally, this makes more sense than American or English law.

Harris

In too many cases, under our Anglo-American system, a defendant is allowed to go free or is convicted, simply because the jury must make a decision of "Guilty" or "Innocent." If it cannot, another jury is empaneled until a definite decision is reached. No in-between ground is offered to jurymen.

In Scottish law, the jury will often decide that while the prosecution has not proven its case, that the defendant is guilty. There is still enough evidence to deny him the verdict of "Not Guilty." The case can be reopened if any new evidence of a substantial nature is appearing. Here, once a defendant is found "not guilty," he is never again to be placed in jeopardy under the same charge.

I thought of this while looking at a new book, Scots Who Never Were, by G. Vernon Hinchey. In his summary of the Hiss case, he writes: "As a Scotsman I say without hesitation that in my native country the verdict in the strange case of Alger Hiss would have been 'Not Proven'."

That would have been my verdict, too—in the Hiss case, the Rosenberg case, and others of the same dark complexity. I am convinced that Hiss was guilty of something, that he was involved in murky doings, and that the whole story of the Hiss-Chambers relationship has never been told. But I do not think the government proved its charge in this particular case.

The law customarily asks people to be much more definite than they sometimes can or should be. This is true not only of witnesses, but also of jurymen, who are forced to say "Yes!" or "No!" when their true feelings lie in the gray borderline between guilt and innocence.

Carl Sandburg once expressed this in his form of the Court oath, and the only honest response of a witness to it:

"Do you solemnly swear before the everliving God that the testimony you are about to give in this case shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?"

"No, I don't," Sandburg's witness replied. "I can tell you what I saw and heard, and I'll swear to that by the everliving God, but the more I study about it the more sure I am that nobody but the everliving God knows the whole truth, and I can't sum up the case as a witness in this case what He would tell you would turn your insides with the pity and the mystery of it."

Contributions to Out of State Groups Deductible for First Time

DEDUCTIONS
Dear to the heart of every taxpayer is the long list (he hopes) of tax deductions available to him when preparing his returns. The taxpayer will do well to sort carefully through his 1965 paid bills and cancelled checks since it is in this area that considerable tax savings often can be effected.

This year, under the new Wisconsin Simplification law, the deductions, with very few exceptions, will be exactly the same as enumerated on the federal return. On this basis, contributions to out of state organizations will be deductible for the first time. Once again the amount of your real estate tax bill will be deductible. This is an item that was denied Wisconsin taxpayers in recent years. Wisconsin income tax paid during 1965 will also be recognized, and don't forget those sales taxes.

The amount of sales tax deductible in Wisconsin is the actual amount of the taxes paid. If you didn't keep records use

Include All Items
If you have prepared your federal return, the total of deductions itemized on page 2 part IV should be forwarded to line 6b of the state return. It's just that simple. It's unnecessary to prepare a new state list of deductions and ponder over such questions as which ones are deductible on the state form and which on the federal return as in prior years. But again, since it is the listing on the federal form that determines your deductions both for federal and state purposes it's important to include each and every item available.

ments, chiropractors, chiropractors and osteopaths fees as well as ambulance charges, fees paid qualified psychologists and practical or registered nurses.

Contributions of Goods
Contributions While most knowledgeable taxpayers make sure that they enter all contributions made in cash to the church, community chest and other organized charities, contributions in forms other than cash should not be overlooked. Clothing, furniture and other castoffs given to your favorite charity may involve significant deductions. Gifts of other property with a low basis and high present value represents an important tax savings procedure. While the deductions for contributions may not exceed 20 per cent of "federal total income" an additional 10 per cent is allowable for contributions to churches, tax exempt hospitals and certain college endowment associations.

Jets Collide During Fueling

Aboard B52, KC135
Rescued in Spain

ALMERIA, Spain (AP)—Two U.S. Air Force jet planes with a total of 11 crewmen aboard crashed along the Mediterranean coast today after a collision in the air while refueling.

U.S. Air Force officials said five men had been rescued.

The headquarters of the 16th U.S. Air Force near Madrid said the planes were a B52 bomber from a base in the United States and a KC135 jet tanker based at Moron Airport, near Sevilla, Spain.

One of the two planes crashed on land, the other into the Mediterranean.

Children on their way to school near Almeria said they heard a loud explosion in the sky high overhead, then saw smoke clouds above them. Later four parachutes were seen descending off the coast.

U.S. Air Force sources said the B52 carried seven men and the big tanker a crew of four.

Dye Marker

Rescue planes reported they spotted a big dye marker about a third of a mile off the coast. Pilots said it appeared too large to have come from one man's survival pack.

The Air Force said the B52 came from the 68th Bombardment Wing at Seymour-Johnson Air Base, N.C. The tanker was from the 910th Air Refueling Unit at Bergstrom, Tex., but was temporarily stationed in Spain.

Squadrons of B52s fly into the Spanish area almost daily from the United States, refuel at high altitude from jet tankers, and return to their home bases without landing in Europe.

Flying tankers are stationed at both the Moron and Torrejon air bases, the latter near Madrid, to refuel the big bombers.

Open Safe

After flames subsided in the front of the building, store officials were able to climb through the front window space and open a safe which was cemented to the floor.

Several cash register drawers filled with money and receipts and other records were saved.

Fire officials said the fire must have been going for about a half-hour or more before it was discovered. The store closed at 9:30 p.m. Saturday.

Assistant Chief Les Bramer said there was no way of determining the cause of the fire as yet. An investigation was expected to continue.

No one was injured in the fire.

The light early-morning traffic was diverted down St. George Street and Irwin Avenue as police squad cars and barricades were stationed on Main Street.

Firemen, unable to get inside the building, hosed the flames through the windows, from the ladder and the roof of the adjoining building until 7:30 a.m.

Western states — were to support the government.

Allow 8 Hours

The high court has allotted eight hours for hearing the case, which South Carolina brought directly in the Supreme Court instead of going through the lower federal courts. Arguments are expected to continue at least through Tuesday.

David W. Robinson II, special counsel for South Carolina, was expected to contend that the Voting Rights Act is not an appropriate means of enforcing the 15th Amendment which bars discrimination against voters and gives Congress the power to enact appropriate enforcement legislation.

The six states also contend that the act makes a finding of past discrimination with no judicial proceedings and that its application by a mathematical formula to a handful of states — Alaska, Arizona and the seven in the South — invidiously sets them apart from other states.

automatic weapons as it rolled to Trung Lap carrying the 2nd Battalion of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division's 28th Regiment back to brigade headquarters.

The infantrymen shot back as the vehicles slowly rolled on toward their destination. Overhead the planes pinpointed their fire at the Communist positions. The barrage came within 150 feet of the convoy.

When the fighting quieted down after 2½ hours, a U.S. spokesman reported 10 Viet Cong bodies counted and many more possible Communist dead against very light American casualties. Five guerrillas were captured, including one who was taken with a flying tackle by Sgt. Dwight O. Baldwin of Oakland, Calif.

Toss Grenade

Terrorists tossed a grenade at a peepshow of American soldiers in Saigon this morning. The Americans jumped from the vehicle before it exploded.

For the first time, the U.S. Air Force's eight-engine B52s from Guam joined the Vietnamese army in an operation, unloading their 500- and 750-pound bombs on a central coastal area 10 miles northwest of Quang Ngai City. Vietnamese officials estimated that two to three Communist regiments were in the area 330 miles northeast of Saigon.

When the bombers headed back to their base, the ground troops moved in and made light contact with the enemy, but no other significant results were reported. The Communists have controlled the province for years and recently overran several outposts protecting the provincial capital.

Hit V.C. Camps

Elsewhere U.S. Air Force and Navy jets strafed and bombed Viet Cong camps close to Saigon.

Korean marines wound up their longest operation of the war, called Jefferson. In 16 days of scouring some of the toughest terrain in the country, they opened up main Highway No. 1 from Tuy Hoa south to the beaches of Phu Yen Province.

The Koreans and Vietnamese government units reported killing 391 Viet Cong and capturing 14. Their casualties were listed as light throughout the drive over rocks and through dense jungle. The air arm flew 234 sorties in support and artillery and gunfire from naval ships dishored were employed.

The U.S. Air Force lost a B52 bomber on a night mission but the crewmen bailed out into the South China Sea and were picked up by helicopters. The plane had developed mechanical trouble.

U.S. Marine units operating out of Da Nang reported killing 23 Viet Cong over the weekend. As the suspension of U.S. air

Knowles could have called a special election, and explained this morning that he declined to do so because of the availability of Kahl and his desire to provide continuity in the office of superintendent without the diversion of an election campaign. Kahl declined to comment on his own plans to run for the office later, but it is widely assumed that he will do so with the support of leaders of the school profession.

Knowles likened his choice to that of a football coach who is fortunate enough to have a reserve quarterback.

"When we lose Bart Starr," he told reporters, "we have Zeke Bratkowski to call upon."

Ski Resort at Lake Geneva Robbed of $8,000

LAKE GENEVA (AP)—Three or four armed men entered the main lodge at the Mount Fuji Ski Resort early today and escaped with between $7,000 and $8,000 in cash and checks while a snow-making crew worked nearby, the Walworth County sheriff's office said.

The burglary, which occurred about 3 a.m., was discovered by members of the work crew when they noticed that the lights in the lodge had been turned on.

The workmen reported to Manager Edward Metzger that as they approached the lodge three men armed with sawed off shotguns and pistols emerged, got into a car and drove away. A fourth man was believed to have been waiting in the car.

Bombing Pause An Invitation To De-Escalate

But N. Vietnamese
Haven't Shown Signs
Of Accepting Bid

BY ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — In addition to setting the stage for possible negotiations, the "pause" in bombing North Viet Nam ordered by President Johnson last month was a highly significant, though unpublicized, second purpose.

Novak

the negotiating table, "reciprocal de-escalation" of the war is not only possible but in the interest of both sides.

"Reciprocal de-escalation" would reverse the phased escalation of the war that started when Hanoi first began to send organized, highly-trained battalions down the Ho Chi Minh corridor to fight by the side of the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Troop Increase
The U.S. response to this heating-up of the war was the steady increase in U.S. troops (doubled twice in the first six months of 1965 and doubled again in July) plus the bombing of the North (which began in February, 1965).

With the U.S. escalating, the Communists were feverishly working to improve the Ho Chi Minh Trail, which runs down the eastern edge of Laos and enters South Viet Nam far below the 17th parallel. Over these improved jungle roads the North Vietnamese poured more and more reinforcements to the South.

Escalate and Escalate
What worries administration policymakers is that the Communists have nearly matched the new arrivals of U.S. troops with reinforcements of their own, at the ratio of one influence within his country that guerrilla fighter for two or three U.S. regulars (the Pentagon's view of a fair ratio in this war).

Resumption of bombing, however, will not change the basic policy of de-escalation fails, the ers, backed by President Johnson, argued in administration
councils in recent months to make a unilateral start at de-escalation (fitting right in with the President's dramatic peace offensive) which would give the Communists a chance to recipi-tate by a major reduction in troops infiltrated from North Viet Nam. This would constitute a beginning of reciprocal de-escalation.

So far, the reaction to the bombing "pause" from Hanoi has been zero. Careful study of the infiltration routes show Ho
Chi Minh is continuing heavy infiltration. In short, he has ignored the U.S. straw of
"reciprocal de-escalation."

Nevertheless, President Johnson is willing to continue the bombing "pause" many weeks
more before giving up hope that his peace offensive will yield negotiations or, short of that,
that Hanoi will perceive the
danger in continued escalation
and cut down its troop infiltration.

Bombing Effective
If, however, Hanoi will neither negotiate nor de-escalate, the prospect is that U.S. bombing will resume with more planes, more bombs, and a larger target area. Intelligence reports conclusively show that the bombing has been more effective than is publicly known.
These reports indicate that between 10,000 and 20,000 North Vietnamese have been withdrawn from the war economy and put to work keeping roads open and rebuilding

Further, intelligence indicates that the single raid last month on a major generating plant near Haiphong wiped out 14 percent of the nation's capacity.

In addition, many thousands of imported Chinese laborers munists have engaged fulltime repairing the rail links between Hanoi and the Chinese border, a Chinese own, at the ratio of one influence within his country that guerrilla fighter for two or three U.S. regulars (the Pentagon's view of a fair ratio in this war).

City Attorney Office Sought By Donald Green

KAUKAUNA—A second candi-

the city its first contest for a city-wide office.
Donald Green, 201 E. Division from 1962 to 1964 and who was defeated for reelection in 1964, in a 3-way race, will seek the post currently held by Emmett

Rohan. Rohan served from 1960

Green and reversed the procedure in 1964.

Green is married and the father of four children.

Resumption of bombing, how-

policy of de-escalation fails, the
ers, backed by President Johnson, argued in administration
councils in recent months to make a unilateral start at de-escalation (fitting right in with

the President's dramatic peace
offensive) which would give the Communists a chance to recipi-
tate by a major reduction in troops infiltrated from North Viet Nam. This would constitute a beginning of reciprocal de-
escalation.

So far, the reaction to the bombing "pause" from Hanoi
has been zero. Careful study of the infiltration routes show Ho
Chi Minh is continuing heavy infiltration. In short, he has ignored the U.S. straw of
"reciprocal de-escalation."

Nevertheless, President Johnson is willing to continue the
bombing "pause" many weeks
more before giving up hope that
his peace offensive will yield negotiations or, short of that,
that Hanoi will perceive the
danger in continued escalation
and cut down its troop infiltration.

Bombing Effective
If, however, Hanoi will neither negotiate nor de-escalate, the prospect is that U.S. bombing
will resume with more planes,
more bombs, and a larger target area. Intelligence reports conclusively show that the
bombing has been more effective than is publicly known.
These reports indicate that between 10,000 and 20,000 North Vietnamese have been withdrawn from the war economy

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) —
One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.
No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its gem-killing properties also help prevent infection.
In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verfied by a doctor's observations.
This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.
The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H®. Ask for Congressional Agenda Filled With Finances Social, Legislative Questions Handled In First Session

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK AP — The second session of the 89th Congress could mean even more in dollars and cents to American business than did the action-packed first session.

The reason is that most of the issues in the session that opened last week are closely tied to financial and economic decisions. Most of the social and legal questions were dealt with last year.

Current issues range from how much money will be appropriated for the Viet Nam war to what industries and companies will get the new defense orders and which ones will be cut back in payments by the U.S. Treasury. The type of war to be waged in Viet Nam will determine much of the spending — and what company and what community gets or loses orders.

Treasury Interest The issues also include how the new money will be raised through increased tax collections or by selling a lot more Treasury securities. Basic to this is the monetary question of what rate of interest the Treasury will be allowed to pay when it borrows.

There's a 4-4 per cent ceiling on what it can pay on bond issues, although the going interest rate in the money markets is well above that today. The Treasury has to issue short-term notes and bills to which the ceiling doesn't apply. It is paying well above 4-4 per cent.

ACID INDIGESTION! TUMS THE GREAT BIG MEDICINE IN THE LITTLE GREEN ROLL

Many communities and corporations have an interest in the Great Society programs under way beyond the central issue of what they will do for the general welfare. Congress may be asked to decide whether such programs, with their large outlays of cash for goods and services, are to be continued at the present rate, at a reduced one or expanded as called for in the original time schedule.

Define Controls Business also will be closely watching moves under way in this session of Congress to make more definite and restrictive the controls over pricing which the administration has been confining largely to persuasion or to threats of retaliatory moves by the government. The administration wants to hold basic prices down if possible as the economy heads up and nears the point where inflation could take off on a dangerous ride.

One big prop of the economy today is the boom in spending by business for new plant and other man in the job that Nash equipment. Any tax changes could affect this. Some even wonder if Congress might res-Nash will be offered another and the 7 per cent depreciation allowance for tax purposes originally voted to encourage the buying of new equipment.

Foreign aid and any changes in foreign trade rules — such as easing restrictions on trade with the Communist bloc in Eastern Europe — could affect many firms doing business abroad or wanting to since much of the money appropriated for foreign aid goes for the purchase of U.S. exports.

Bank mergers and changes in banking rules are also on the agenda of this session of Congress. They are likely to set off bitter fights.

The government's stockpile of strategic materials and how to get rid of some of the surpluses will be up for debate. Business has a vital stake in this as it could affect prices and even trim production of some items. And government's relations with labor through guidelines on holding down wage increases it considers inflationary also is likely to come before Congress along with the guidelines on price increases.

Udall Seeks Removal Of Philleo Nash From Indian Bureau Job

By JOAN WYNGAARD Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON The Washington speculations that Philleo Nash, the former Wisconsin lieutenant governor, will be relieved of his job as commissioner in the bureau of Indian affairs are correct, according to responses to the inquiries of Nash's Wisconsin friends and associates.

Stewart Udall, the interior secretary, evidently wants an by business for new plant and other man in the job that Nash equipment. Any tax changes could affect this. Some even wonder if Congress might res-Nash will be offered another and the 7 per cent depreciation allowance for tax purposes originally voted to encourage the buying of new equipment.

The replacement of two of the three members of the top command of the Agricultural and Conservation Stabilization Committee of the federal government in Wisconsin was accomplished by the Democratic national administration with surprisingly little fuss, but it is a more important development in local politics than is generally understood.

The political appointees of the organization have a good deal of freedom in their work, and most of them have not hesitated to use their opportunities to do a good turn for the national administration to which they are beholden. Democrats have known that much of their progress in vote improvement in recent times has been a result of their penetration of rural districts and small towns. One of the deposed state committee members has freely admitted his political activities on the losing side of the Wisconsin intra party factional alignment of the Democrats.

Roland Kannenberg of Mercer, widely known as the organizer of the first Wisconsin Towns Association in the 1940s and who tried to employ that vehicle to win a Republican gubernatorial nomination, is now chairman of the Democratic party organization in Iron County. In the 1930s Kannenberg was a state senator from Wausau, elected on the old Progressive ticket.

Dominic Frinzi of Milwaukee, a Democratic candidate for governor whose relations with his state party organization are cool, to put it mildly, was given a generous candidacy announcement in the pages of the current Democratic state organization bulletin.

Frinzi is likely to campaign against the high costs of campaigning among other issues. In Madison recently he lamented to reporters that even a seat on the Milwaukee city council, representing a single ward, now costs contenders $7,000 to $8,000.

The adjustment of plans of Abe Swed, husband of the Democratic national committee woman for Wisconsin, illustrates the hazards of making positive commitments prematurely in politics. Swed a couple of months ago was saying that he would run for governor, and nothing else. Last week he declared for the lieutenant governorship nomination nevertheless, after canvassing the outlook for the nomination at the head of the ticket.

Why should the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education have chosen July 1 as the date for the installation of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Angus Rothwell as the chief of staff of the Committee?

The question was asked guardedly when the committee unanimously chose Rothwell this week, and answered in equivocal terms. The best informed guesses agree that it was done to grant a favor to Carlisle Runge, the acting director during recent months since the reorganization of the CCHF. During the next five months Runge will have the prestige of the directorship, plus a handsome pay raise to compensate for his disappointment in failing to get the permanent job.

That failure did not relate to his qualities or his work, but to the absolute determination of Gov. Knowles among others involved in the recent committee reorganization to assure an objective staff command. Runge's most intimate professional experience has been as a staffer of the University of Wisconsin.

The blunt warning by the conservation commission that it does not propose to tolerate pressures on personnel appointments, and that there is an explicit law prohibiting such outside intervention in department personnel decisions related to the continuing campaign of the friends of Kenneth Beghin of the department staff to land the job of chief warden of the department. The appointment situation remains confused and will probably require more litigation before it is settled.

Dr. Charles Green, 1904 N. Gillett St., was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by fire department rescue squad after he injured his ankle while skating at an ice rink at Lincoln School about 3:45 p.m. Saturday.

Dr. Green was released from the hospital after treatment, it was learned.

At 7:54 p.m. Saturday firemen were called to 1315 W. Harris St. when Mrs. Elmer Justman, 56, had difficulty breathing. Firemen administered oxygen to the woman at home then took her to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

We know ours are above average because they've earned the honors to prove it!

Year after year, New York Life agents have been building a remarkable record with the life insurance industry.

For example, the Million Dollar Round Table of the National Association of Life Underwriters awards membership to agents with outstanding sales and counseling abilities. New York Life regularly has far more members than any other company. At the Women Leaders Round Table, our ladies have done the same thing for 20 years in a row. Similarly, the Association recognizes high standards of service through its National Quality Award. Thousands of our agents earn it repeatedly.

Or let's consider professional training. Among agents themselves, one of the most respected achievements can be identified as a Chartered Life Underwriter. This usually requires years of effort, study and hard work. We think it's significant that New York Life has one of the very largest groups of C.L.U. members — and it's growing every year.

But the highest honor an agent can earn is the confidence and esteem of his clients. There's a New York Life agent ready to earn it by helping your family achieve greater financial security. Call him. You'll notice a good man at work.

Viet Nam Buildup May Exceed Korea

Tempo of Fighting Will Increase With Additional U. S. Strength

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. military effort in Viet Nam may approach or exceed the 402,000-man peak level of the Korean War by next summer.

With this buildup, the tempo of the fighting will increase. There will be longer American casualty lists.

These doubts will bring still stronger pressure on the Johnson administration to bomb such so far "privileged sanctuaries" as Hanoi, the port city of Haiphong and perhaps even Cambodian border areas where the Communists resupply and rest.

So far the United States has committed about 240,000 men to the Viet Nam fighting — 189,000 on land and 60,000 with the 7th Fleet in adjoining waters.

150,000 Increase
Official sources indicate American strength may be increased by another 150,000 in the next six months or so. Some high military officials say they would not be surprised to see 500,000 Americans engaged by this time next year. Peak U. S. strength in the Korean War theater was about 402,000 men.

Even more than the decision last winter to bomb North Viet Nam, the fundamental turning point probably was President Johnson's action ordering the Army's 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division and other big reinforcements into the Viet Nam battle.

That action last summer stripped away whatever was left of the U. S. guise as adviser to the South Vietnamese armed forces. It made the United States a major combatant in the ground war.

Regular Army Troops
Now U. S. prestige is on the line — and North Viet Nam has raised the stakes by choosing to confront the United States in South Viet Nam with a growing number of Hanoi's regular army troops.

North Vietnamese and Communist Viet Cong soldiers number around 200,000, and the North Vietnamese are expected to pour in another 4,500 a month now that the rainy season is over.

The land forces opposing the Reds total about 700,000. This includes U. S. troops, more than 500,000 South Vietnamese, 18,000 South Koreans and small contingents of Australians and New Zealanders.

The ratio in favor of the anti-Communist side thus is roughly 3½-1. This is far less than the 8-1 and 10-1 preponderance often cited as the effective requirement to win a guerrilla type war.

Ratio Unknown
Lt. Gen. B. E. Spivy, a planning director for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said some time ago, "Frankly, I do not know the ratio of government to guerrilla forces required to prevail in Viet Nam. This is something we shall learn."

Among other things, the professionals say the availability of hundreds of helicopters to move anti-Communist troops swiftly tends to downgrade the old ratio theory.

Also, the more the enemy comes out in battalion and regiment strength, and the more he stands and fights, the more the war loses its guerrilla character.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has pledged that this country will send as many fighting men as are needed.

Foundation Laid
President Johnson's warning that "other hard steps" may be taken if the Communists spurn negotiations has been interpreted as laying the foundation for intensification of the war, particularly by air.

Repeated assaults on bridges, roads, ferries and similar targets have been notably unsuccessful in stemming the Communist infiltration into South Viet Nam.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff and powerful members of Congress have been urging that the air attacks be aimed at North Viet Nam's economic base.

The proponents of this strategy favor going after a North Viet Nam oil center, her rubber and the port of Haiphong. Some call for bombing dikes and irrigation works, thus imperducing the fighting men. As of the end of October, more than 48,000 men were under Marine training.

Where will the men come from to maintain the accelerated war effort, plus this country's worldwide responsibilities?

Draft Calls
Probably by continuing large monthly draft calls and encouraging enlistments.

Last summer, President Johnson considered calling up National Guardsmen and Reservists.

The administration could have mustered about 80,000 Guardsmen and Reservists in two divisions, two brigades and supporting units, plus 19 Air Guard and Reserve squadrons totaling 30,000 men, plus thousands of Navy and Marine Reservists.

Almost at the 11th hour, Johnson and McNamara chose instead the course of a slow-paced strengthening of the armed forces through big draft quotas and stimulated enlistments.

Speculation Picks Formosa As War Base

Nationalist Chinese Island Already Has Modern Facilities

By SPENCER MOOSA

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Speculation arises from time to time in the Far East that Formosa may become involved in the Viet Nam war as a staging or operational base but nothing has been announced to indicate this is planned.

U. S. authorities decline comment and Chinese military sources disclaim knowledge of any expanded role for Formosa.

Part of the speculation arose out of objections in Japan to use of Okinawa as the base for a bombing operation some months ago. The United States recognizes Japanese residual sovereignty over Okinawa and other islands in the Ryukyus.

The Chinese Nationalist island possesses a number of good left the tracks but remained upright.

Three passengers and two crew members were admitted to a hospital for observation. Ten others were treated and released.

Check Finds Boy Has Jellybean in His Ear

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Timmy Denton, 8, will be in the hospital longer than he'd anticipated. He went to the UCLA Medical Center after a minor accident on his bike, and doctors found he had a jellybean lodged in his ear.

Doctors said Timmy, who escaped the accident almost unscathed, will be in the hospital he's not really sure.
